Most facilities open Rec office offers summer fun

By Dorothy Pritchard
Special to the Daily Nebraskan

Although campus recreation programs will be cut during the summer months, UNL fitness fans who plan to stay in Lincoln will have several ways to keep in shape.

Paul Erickson, graduate assistant in charge of recreation and special events for the Office of Campus Recreation, said some recreation hours will be cut because fewer students will be on campus during the summer.

"The facilities are definitely not overcrowded during the summer," Erickson said. In the summer, more people participate in outdoor recreational activities, he said.

Most recreation facilities on City and East campuses will be open on weekdays at reduced hours. However, the only facility that will be open on weekends will be the East Campus tennis courts near the College of Law building.

Even though most recreation facilities will be closed on weekends, UNL students and staff can go elsewhere for physical activities at low rates.

Janet Greenwald, a research technician at the Veterinary Diagnostic Center on East Campus, swims three times a week at UNL's Mabel Lee Hall pool during the academic year. But during the summer, she joins the YMCA.

"What's good about the 'Y' is you can get the early hours and the weekends," Greenwald said.

Jolleen Klymer, the associate branch executive of Lincoln's downtown YMCA, said UNL students will be able to get a special membership price this summer for the first time.

If students join between May 10 and June 1, the price will be $57 for three months, or $19 a month. Usually, a three-month membership would cost about $107, or about $35 a month.

The membership includes use of Nautilus equipment, gyms, pools, tracks, free weights, handball and racquetball courts and sundecks at both YMCA branches, 1039 P St. and 2601 N. 70th St.

The YMCA is open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. During June and July, evening hours will be extended to 10 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. They are open from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. on weekends.

On campus, Erickson said, the Coliseum gym will be open weekdays from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. The Coliseum weightroom will be open weekdays from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and again from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. The pool will be open from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. weekdays.

The Coliseum will close from July 1 to 19 for a volleyball camp. However, the Men's Physical Education Building will open from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. during that time, Erickson said.

Schulte Field House racquetball courts will be open from 5 to 8 p.m. on weekdays and players can reserve the courts anytime by calling the recreation office at 472-3467.

On East Campus, the tennis and outdoor racquetball courts will be open weekdays from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m. These courts also may be reserved by calling the recreation office.

The East Campus Activities Building will be open from noon to 1 p.m. and 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. on weekdays. It has a gym and a fitness room for stretching and weightlifting.

The recreation office also can provide students with options for wilderness activities. Students can get fishing licenses, game and parks permits, state park maps and equipment ranging from Frisbees and bicycles to tents and other camping gear, Erickson said.

The recreation office will be open May 13 through 17 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from May 20 through Aug. 16 from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Foreign leaders visit Lincoln

Lincoln may be tucked away in the heartland of the country, but it soon will be the crossroads of visitors from Europe, Africa and Latin America, said Sally Pegg of the Lincoln Mayor's Committee for International Friendship.

Last year representatives from more than 50 countries visited Lincoln through the agency, Pegg said.

International Friendship is an information agency that provides money to foreign governments so they can send their representatives to the United States. Past participants in the national program include Margaret Thatcher, prime minister of Great Britain; Anwar Sadat, former Egyptian president; and Valery Giscard d'Estaing, former French president.

Most of these international visitors usually go to New York, San Francisco and Texas, Pegg said. Some come to Lincoln.

"Lincoln gives international visitors more of a cross section of American life," she said. While in Lincoln, the mayor's committee arranges their activities.

Sharon Meyer, committee chairwoman, said the No. 1 attraction in Lincoln for foreign visitors is the state Legislature which is the only one-house legislature in the United States.

Because many countries have a single-body legislature, they are interested in how Nebraska's works, Meyer said.

Other Lincoln attractions include agriculture and related research, Meyer said. And just seeing a different section of U.S. life and culture than they would see in New York or other big cities interests foreign visitors, she said.

Anyone can be a part of the agency's Mayor's Committee, Meyer said. People can do something simple such as driving an international visitor to a meeting or something more involved such as arrange visitors' business and social meetings in Lincoln. People interested in participating can call the Mayor's office at 471-7511 for more information.

Lincoln Right to Life's monthly meeting will be Thursday at Christ Lutheran Church, 4325 Sumner St. at 7:30 p.m. Denny Hartford, director of the Omaha Christian Action Council, will speak on the activities at the two abortion clinics in Omaha and on his trip to Washington, D.C. for the annual Walk for Life. Babysitting is free. Everyone is welcome.

A scholarship fund of $250,000 has been established by Warnborough College of Oxford, England, to make an "Oxford experience" available to more American students. Under the new Warnborough College program, scholarships for up to $2,250 are being offered to qualified undergraduate and graduate students of American colleges and universities to study at Warnborough. The scholarships will cover study at Warnborough for a semester or a full academic year, with the amount of the award scaled to the period of study.

Warnborough College is a small, independent international institution offering a wide selection of courses in the humanities, social sciences, business, languages and communication. It has strong links with many American colleges and universities that send students on a regular basis. Study at Warnborough combines the American approach of lectures and workshops with the traditional British university tutorial system.

Complete details on these scholarships may be obtained from Arthur A. Daitch, U.S. Liaison Officer for Warnborough, P. O. Box 3927, Amity Station, New Haven, CT 06525. Tel. (203) 387-4461.

Harry G. Frankfurt, professor of philosophy at Yale University, will give a Cedric A. Evans Memorial Lecture at UNL on Friday.

His lecture, titled "Rationalism is Descartes and Spinoza," will be at 3 p.m. in the Regency Suite of the Nebraska Union.

Frankfurt is the author of a well-known book on the philosophy of Descartes titled "Demons, Dreamers, and Madmen: The Defense of Reason in Descartes' 'Meditations.'" He also has written numerous articles for philosophical journals on various topics, including the freedom of the will, the philosophy of mind and the philosophy of Descartes.

In addition, to his lecture, Frankfurt also will discuss a paper dealing with consciousness on Friday at 10:30 a.m. in Oldfather Hall 1007.

Cedric Evans, for whom the lecture series is named, was for many years a faculty member in the department of philosophy at UNL. The fund established in his memory enables the department to bring the best philosophical speakers from throughout the United States and abroad to the UNL campus.
