Pharmacy college spared; Winger sparks summer news

Here's a wrap-up of the top area news stories from summer break:

The NU Board of Regents at their July monthly meeting rejected a proposal by University of Nebraska Medical Center Chancellor Charles Andrews to phase out the pharmacy school and UNL's division of the NU nursing program.

Andrews had proposed the idea to make up for UNMC's $2.1 million shortfall for fiscal year 1985-86.

The board instead adopted a plan by Regent Robert Koefoot of Grand Island to raise medical center tuition an average of 36.2 percent and make $500,000 in internal budget reallocations to keep the two programs alive. The tuition increase would generate about $950,000 for UNMC. It would take effect in 1986.

Actress Debra Winger, a frequent companion of Gov. Bob Kerrey since the two met during filming of 'Terms of Endearment' in Lincoln two years ago, was ticketed in late July for speeding, 51 mph in a 35 mph zone.

Winger, who was driving Kerrey's state-leased luxury sedan, was returning from a swim at the Prairie Life Center, 70th and A streets, in which Kerrey holds a financial interest through a blind trust.

The incident drew national attention after Lincoln Star columnist Curt Donaldson jokingly announced 'The Winger Dinger Fund,' established to raise enough money for Winger to buy a car from used car dealer Weird Wally. About $900 was raised and Winger later said she would match the total to buy a '75 Caprice that she donated to Lincoln's Women in Community Service home for girls.

The speeding ticket cost Winger $51 ($26 for speeding and $25 for the license charge) plus $21 in court costs.

S.E. Copple, former president of the insolvent Commonwealth Savings Co. of Lincoln, began his 366-day federal prison term June 24.

Copple, 88, was convicted of conspiracy to make false entries on the records of a federally insured Beatrice Bank.

Copple was flown to the federal minimum security prison in Fort Worth, Texas. He will serve the state sentence concurrently with the federal sentence at Fort Worth.

Operating hours at the Sheldon Art gallery have been reduced. UNL Chancellor Martin Massengale ordered the move in wake of the $2.2 million shortfall the campus now faces.

The Sheldon Gallery will now be open from 12-5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday and Sundays 2-5 p.m. Previously, the art gallery had opened at 10 a.m. on weekdays.

Massengale's directives also increases admission prices at the Sheldon Film Theatre to $3.75, up 75 cents, and reduces film theater programming to four nights per week.

In more recent news, NU football player Brian Hiemer died last week of a self-inflicted gun shot wound.

Hiemer shot himself at his parent's farm four miles north of Shelby.

Hiemer shared the No. 1 tight end position with Todd Frain last year.

The reason for Hiemer's suicide remains unclear.
