Scott Messler, student director of the NU drum line, directs his drummers to precision during an early morning practice at Memorial Stadium on Wednesday.

Drum-line director creates beat for others to march to

It's 3 a.m., and Scott Messler sits at his desk. He momentarily pauses to drink his Sanka and to arrange the scattered papers on his desk.

"I won't sleep tonight," he has told people earlier in the day.

A generous pile of empty beer cans and a bottle of liquid paper lie nearby as Messler composes the music that the UNL drum line will rehearse later that morning.

Messler, a senior music education major, has learned to cope with late hours and early deadlines. As the drum-line director for the UNL marching band, he creates the music for the percussion section, teaches it to the drum-line and runs the section's daily practices in Memorial Stadium.

The dedication and work are necessary because one song for one half-time show can take 12 to 15 hours to write, Messler said.

During the marching season, the drum line is on the field from 7:15 to 9 a.m. each day, and they also practice on Wednesday evenings.

"We live our mornings in an empty stadium," Messler said. "There's nothing else out there but concrete."

But on football Saturdays when the concrete emptiness fills with 76,000 people, the hours spent writing and rehearsing begin to pay off.

"The thing that makes me feel the best is knowing that, having performed in three bowl games, millions of people have heard my writing for the section," Messler said.

THE SLICE

A Piece A Pizza Aplenty

When you need to appease a pizza appetite, how many pieces a pizza are appropriate?

It depends on the portion proportions of the pizza.

If it's Rocky Rococo Pan Style Pizza—thick, crunchy, chewy, cheesy, saucy Pan Style Pizza—a piece a person, in other words, a piece a piece is probably appropriate.

That's why Rocky Rococo Pan Style Pizza is available by the slice: That satisfying sizeable (1/2 lb.) single serving size.

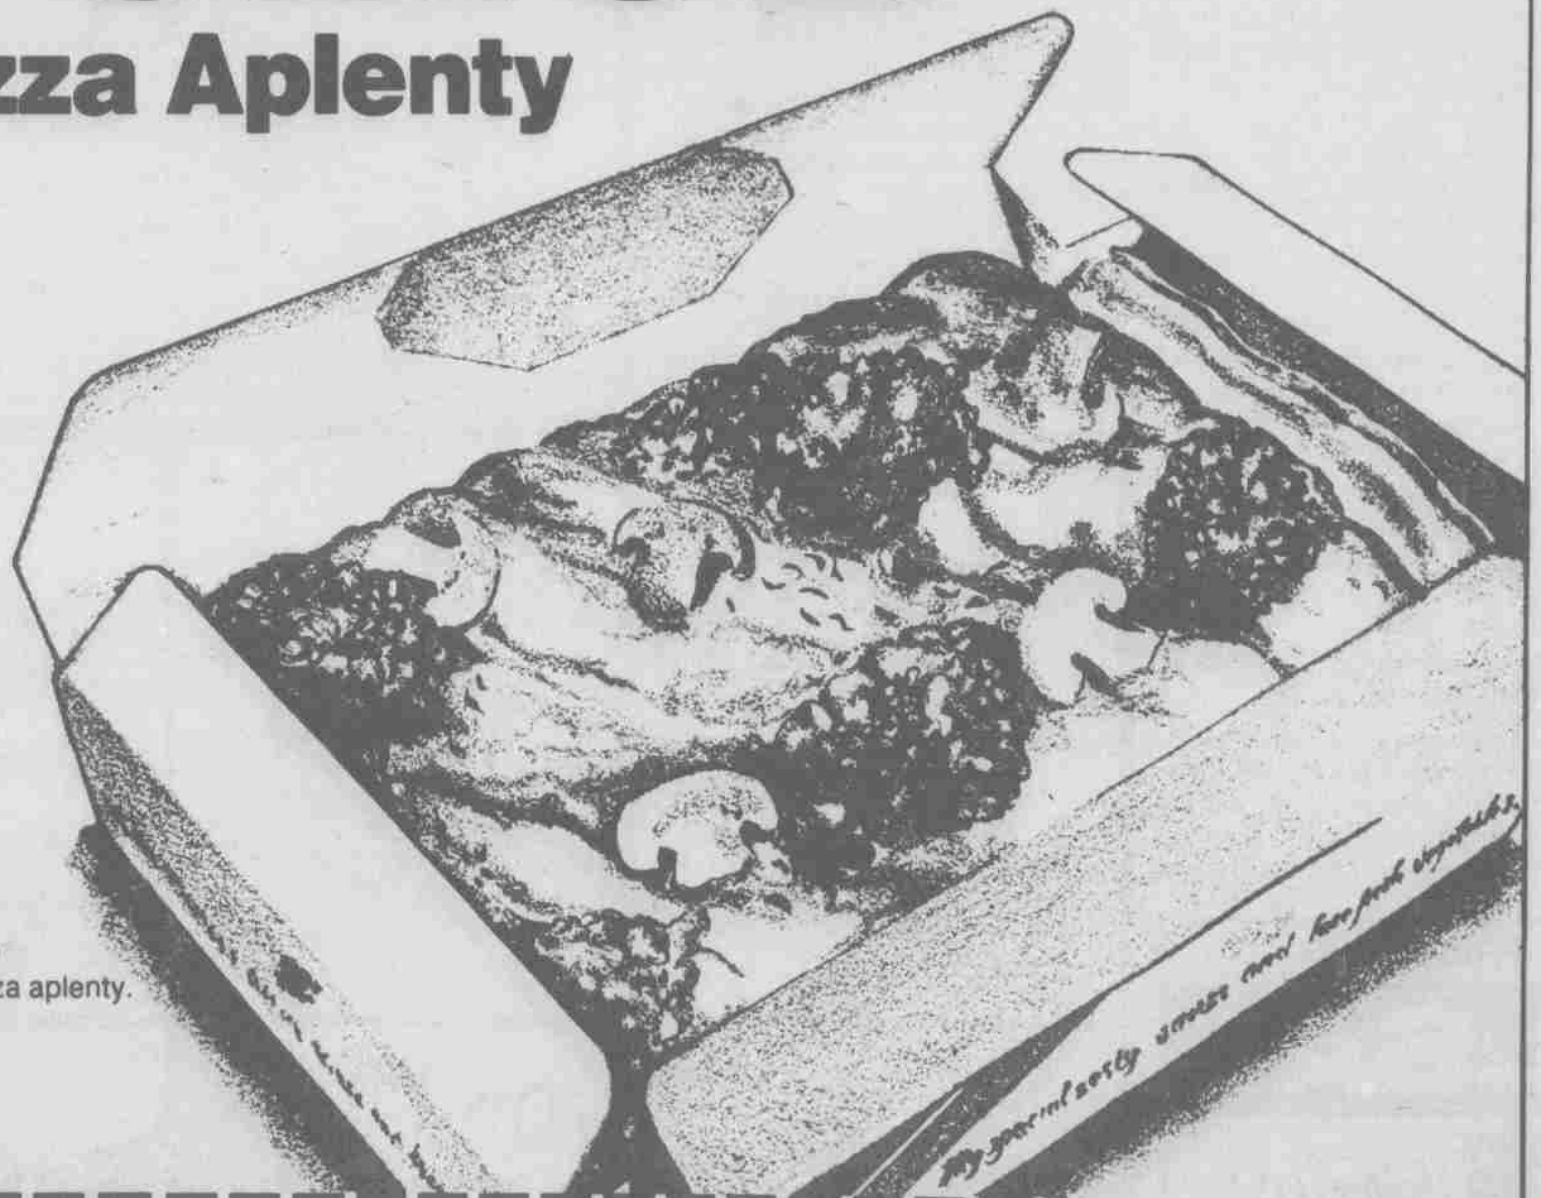

Whether you come call at our counter or drive through our Drive-Thru, The Slice is unfailingly fresh, fast and filling; a luscious lighteninglike lunch; always available almost instantly.

So, when you need to appease a pizza appetite, appease it appropriately.

With a Slice of Rocky Rococo Pan Style Pizza.

A piece a pizza appealingly and appropriately proportioned so that a piece a pizza aplenty.
