

NETV will air plays taken from Hallmark series

Public television borrows from commercial television for a series of dramatic productions presented on Showcase Theatre, beginning Thursday at 8 p.m.

Originally presented on the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" series, these programs feature brilliant performances and quality productions in a variety of plays.

"The Tempest," which stars the late Richard Burton, Roddy McDowell and Lee Remick brings to life William Shakespeare's magical world of spirits, monsters and maidens, opens the series.

James Daly portrays the thief and murderer who was released from crucifixion by an unruly mob instead of Jesus in "Give Us Barabbas," airing October 10.

On October 17 Dame Judith Anderson and Charlton Heston are featured in "Elizabeth the Queen," a drama about an obsessive struggle for power.

Future broadcasts in the series include "Soldier in Love," "The Holy Terror," "Lamp at Midnight," "Victoria Regina," "Barefoot in Athens," and "The Incredible Mr. Disraeli."
