30 Brunswick Pool Tables Deli Sandwiches - Spirits Electronic Games

HOURS: M-F 10:30 to 1:00 a.m. Sat. Noon to 1:00 a.m. Sun. Noon to 11:00 p.m.

HAPPY HOUR

FREE POOL

with minimum purchase Monday - Friday 11:30 - 1:30

Required Age 19 & Older

Mon. - Fri. 5:00 - 7:00 p.m. 60 oz. pitchers one dollar off

LUNCH SPECIALS MONDAY - FRIDAY 399 SunValley Blvd. 474-3545

Job Hunting?

ASPA is sponsoring an

Employment Seminar

First Session

Resume Writing by Costello & Associates Dress For Success by Ben Simon's

Tues, Nov. 5 7 PM City Union

Free Admission All Students Welcome Sponsored by the American Society for Personnel Administration.

ELECTRONIC COMPUTER PROGRAMMING INSTITUTE FOURTH FLOOR THE CENTER - 42nd Center OMAHA

Lincoln's lowest priced SONY

SONY

MO-2D 5.25" (130mm

or one week only, save 20% on every Sony disk we stock. That's right! Just clip the coupon below, bring it to Nebraska Bookstore and take an additional 20% off the lowest priced Sony disks in town. In fact, our regular price is lower than most sale prices: Sugg. Price Our Price Sale Price (with coupon) Sony 31/2" SS disk $29.99 $17.95 $14.36 (5 pack) Sony 31/2" DS disk $79.99 $45.50 $36.40 (10 pack) Sony 54" SS disk $39.99 $12.95 $10.36 (10 pack) Sony 51/4" DS disk $49.99 $16.95 $13.56 (10 pack)

The best prices on Sony disks just got better! Coupon expires Saturday, Nov. 9. And while you're at it, see our new line of Apricot and GoldStar computers - all on the second floor.

Expires 11/9/85

20% Off

Any Sony 31/2" or 51/4" disk purchase. Must present at time of purchase

Open Monday-Friday, 8-5:30, Saturday, 9-5:30

More than a Bookstore, One coupon per person

12th & R Streets in Lincoln Center 476-0111

Community Improvement Program may face $20,000 cut, elimination

By Martha Stoddard Staff Reporter

The Nebraska Community Improvement Program could face some stiff budget cuts and an uncertain future if NCIP communities. the Legislature reduces the NU budget by 3 percent.

The NCIP, now in its 23rd year, is run by the UNL Community Resource and Research Center and the state Department of Economic Development.

According to NU President Ronald Roskens' proposed cuts, the center could face a $20,000 cut this year and could be eliminated next year if the Legislature passes a proposed 3 percent NU budget cut.

affected by budget cuts, said John Gulick, a center representative. He said the economic development department had seven field service representatives working on community development statewide. Now the department's only service representative position is open,

Gulick said that three years ago he was able to work with programs and towns other than the ones in NCIP. Now he said he can't do justice to all 50

The problem with community development programs at budget time is that the best community developer often is the least visible, he said. It doesn't help a community to get a nursing program, he said, if community residents don't learn the skills to deal with problems. Gulick said the community development expert should be a catalyst to get the process of self-improvement started. "I don't wear a cap with scalps that The NCIP program already has been say, 'I got Sutton this,' 'I got York that,'

Gulick said. Rather, Gulick said he helps people learn a generic process to tackle their NCIP program participation helps build cummunity pride. The DED is trying to help Nebraska NCIP Awards Day.

towns get new businesses, Gulick said. but if the community doesn't have pride in itself, it is hard to sell the community. Each NCIP town keeps a scrapbook of its work each year for competition between communities. That process forces a community to think about its strengths, Gulick said.

The NCIP presentation also can be a dry run for presentations to businesses. he said. For communities that have been in the program for several years. the scrapbooks show businesses how much work the residents invested in their community.

The CRRC's work with NCIP is an opportunity for graduate students to get experience, Gulick said. He has worked with three graduate students this year. One of the students got a grant to help communities start recycling programs. Another organized a bus tour of the accomplishments of Lincoln neighborhood organizations of the

Mensa test slated for Nov. 9

By Molly Adams Staff Reporter

This year's final qualifying test for Mensa, the International High IQ Society will be given Thursday Nov. 9 at Bennett Martin Library. Mensa membership is open to anyone who scores in the top 2 percent on a standard IQ test.

Jim Bunstock, president of the Lincoln Mensa chapter, said the test covers math, verbal skills, reasoning and logical sequence.

'We've looked at a lot of different IQ tests nationally and selected a couple more thoroughly. that we feel offer the broadest range of raw intelligence," he said.

table organization" in which people best source of membership. Mensa has who score highly on the IQ test can share common interests. Some activities include tours, discussions, game nights and speakers. The organization library at 9:30 a.m. Thursday Nov. 9. A also features special interest groups. Bunstock said the groups are formed scoring.

within the organization by people who may want to explore a special interest Bunstock said the Lincoln Mensa chapter has 126 members. UNL stu-Bunstock said Mensa is a "Round- dents and instructors are the single about 47,000 members nationally.

Anyone interested in taking the three-hour test should register at the $20 exam fee covers all testing and day for the alleged theft of natural gas near 16th and Y streets. from Lancaster House Printing at 12th and Q streets.

Police Report

The theft occurred in October when stolen by a gas line hooked to the Lancaster House gas meter.

Three vehicles were reported van-

UNL police arrested two people Thurs-dalized Thursday in Parking Area 2

UNL police received three reports $3,000 of natural gas was reportedly Friday of stereos stolen from vehicles parked in Parking Area 1-2 on 19th > Street between T and U streets. Other thefts reported Friday include near 29th and Orchard streets.

basketball equipment from the Coliseum, custodial equipment from Richards Hall and a purse from Oldfather hall.

Saturday UNL police recovered a vehicle that had been reported stolen

Ak-Sar-Ben modernizes to compete

RACES from Page 1

He said trifecta wagering is being considered because of the popularity of the pick-six wagering. Pick-six is a bet made on the winners of the third race through the eighth race.

To appeal to more patrons, Ak-Sar-Ben is spending $7.5 million on remodeling, said Tim Schmad, director of Ak-Sar-Ben public relations. He said the track is being remodeled because it is 50 years old and Ak-Sar-Ben wants to remain competitive with new tracks.

"The modernization is meant to update the facility for the fan," he said. here for fall racing," he said.

A survey done by Bloodhorse magaseventh in attendance and 15th in daily he said.

into" making improvements on the Fairgrounds track, including installing lights for night racing, enclosing the track.

"There is great, untapped potential

Horseracing affects more than just zine named Ak-Sar-Ben among the top horse trainers, owners and jockeys, 25 horseracing tracks in the nation. Oelschlager said. "It helps Nebraska's Oelschlager said the Omaha track ranks economy and supports the whole state,"

"Horsetracks create jobs, boost agri-Oelschlager said Lincoln is "looking culture sales and give business to hotels and restaurants in the community,"

Oelschlager said it takes 550 160grandstand and lengthening the race- acre farms just to raise the hay and feed needed for thoroughbreds in the state.

