Fraternity could make history Phi Delta Theta house 'uncommon, rare'

By Shari Pace Staff Reporter

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity may join the ranks of the George Washington estate in Vermont and Lincoln's Rogers House at 2145 B St.

The fraternity house, 1425 R St., has passed the first step in becoming a historic building listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

Joni Gilkerson, architectural historian for the Nebraska State Historical Society, said the State Historic Preserto the NRHP in Washington, she said.

If the NPHC approves the registration, the fraternity would be the second building on campus to be declared national historical landmark. Architectural Hall was registered as a historic building in 1975.

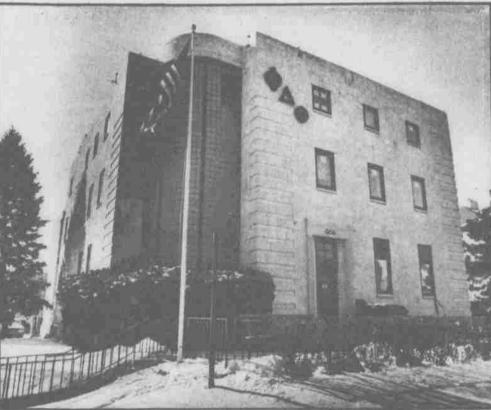

Lincoln's Stuart Building, 13th and P streets, heads a list of 13 other Nebraska properties nominated for placement on the list.

Requests for National Register listing should be made in writing to the State Historic Preservation Officer, Nebraska State Historical Society, P.O.

Spend two days a month and 15 days a year doing one of the Air Guard's high priority jobs, and you may qualify for up to $27,000 in educational benefits and bonus money.

Plus, you'll learn skills that may help you land a civilian job. So even without the bonus money, the Air Guard can be a valuable experience.

But adding $27,000 in benefits makes it the most rewarding part-time job in America.
