Rebels declare Aquino leader

MANILA, Philippines — Soldiers fired on a jeering crowd early Tuesday near the palace of Ferdinand E. Marcos, who struggled desperately to preserve a 20-year hold on power that the United States said is no longer rightfully his.

Eight people were wounded in the shooting and five were injured while trying to flee the gunfire, hospital officials said.

Hundreds of thousands of civilians defied a dusk-to-dawn curfew to form human shields around the suburban camp of military rebels who proclaimed Corazon Aquino president, and around the rebel-held government television station.

Witnesses said masses of people at the television station drove back seven armored personnel carriers loaded with loyalist soldiers at midnight Monday.

Marcos appealed to civilian loyalists Monday to bring their guns to the capital and protect him. In a broadcast on a private channel of television, he said: "We will defend the republic to the last breath of our life, the last drop of our blood." Several top government officials resigned Saturday. Some diplomats serving abroad declared allegiance to Aquino, who accuses Marcos of using fraud and violence to win the Feb. 7 presidential election in which she opposed him.

Both Marcos, 68, and Aquino, 53, scheduled inauguration ceremonies for Tuesday.

The Reagan administration called on Marcos to relinquish power peacefully. "Attempts to prolong the life of the present regime by violence are futile," it said in a statement Monday.

A Washington congressional source said the United States offered Marcos a U.S. aircraft to use in leaving the Philippines. The State Department and Pentagon had no immediate comment.

Rebel commanders said Marcos troops fired mortars overnight at a transmitter of the Roman Catholic radio station Veritas, the main outlet for the opposition since the election. But the station continued broadcasting. Former Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile and Lt. Gen. Fidel V. Ramos were directing the rebellion, which began Saturday. They were holed up at Camp Crame with soldiers loyal to them behind the surrounding sea of civilians.

Aquino declared to an estimated 500,000 people surrounding the rebel camp Monday: "We, the people, have moved from victory to triumph and we did it in the spirit of peace and reconciliation. This is the first time in history that the civilian population has protected the military. Please keep vigil here."

Marcos accused Enrile and Ramos of being a "third force" who wanted power for themselves, and claimed Aquino was backed by communists.

Enrile's response was: "We are here not to grab power. We are here to perform a job and that is to see to that the will of the Filipino people...is respected by everybody."

Ramos, a West Point graduate, has been one of the most pro-American military officers under Marcos. Enrile denied any foreign participation in their defection.

In Brief

Early leaders

OMAHA — Eleven political observers assessing the race for their party's gubernatorial nomination say NU Regent Nancy Hoch of Nebraska City and former Lincoln Mayor Helen Boosalis are the early leaders.

For about a month, political campaign workers have been talking about a private poll reportedly showing the two with leads. However, those who have seen the poll results said more than half the Republicans and Democrats surveyed said they had no idea whom they would vote for.

Visitor dies

LINCOLN — Leland Wilhelm, 64, of Dunbar, a legislative candidate, suffered a fatal heart attack at the state Capitol on Monday morning, according to state trooper Rick Brandt. Wilhelm was pronounced dead at 9:22 a.m. at Lincoln General Hospital about 40 minutes after he fell down, cut his nose and stopped breathing.

Wilhelm often visited the Capitol to watch the Legislature in session, said Sen. Calvin Carsten of Avoca, who will vacate his seat this fall. Wilhelm was one of three candidates running for Carsten's seat.

Arms proposal

WASHINGTON — President Reagan, in his latest arms control proposal to the Soviet Union, has called for the elimination of medium-range nuclear weapons in Europe and Asia, but dismissed elements of Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's most recent offer as "not appropriate for consideration at this time."

Gorbachev proposed in January to eliminate nuclear weapons by the end of the century, with both sides scrapping their medium-range weapons as a first step.

Poll: NU coach should make more than governor

LINCOLN — The consensus of Nebraskans polled for the Lincoln Star was that the governor is underpaid but shouldn't make as much money as Nebraska football coach Tom Osborne.

The poll showed that of 449 people questioned, 70 percent think the governor should make more than the $40,000 a year he is now paid. But only 3 percent said the governor should be paid more than $80,000, while 37 percent said Osborne should be paid more than $80,000.

Before responding, those polled were told how much the governor and Osborne are paid. Osborne's salary is $83,600 a year.

The Legislature is considering raising the salary of the governor to $80,000 annually. The pay increases would come gradually over a four-year period.

Setting it Straight

In an article titled "Fraternity could make history," (Daily Nebraskan, Feb. 24), the address of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity should have been 1545 R St. The location of George Washington's estate also was incorrect. Washington lived in Mount Vernon, Va.
