Nebraska wins two with late inning runs over Kearney State

By Jeff Korbelik

Nebraska's baseball team used some late inning heroics to sweep a pair of victories from Kearney State this weekend at Buck Beltzer field.

The Huskers won Saturday's game 8-7 in eleven innings and squeezed by the Antelopes again on Sunday with a 13-12 victory.

In both games Nebraska built comfortable leads in the early innings only to see them disappear as Kearney State managed to score enough runs to tie the score in the ninth innings.

In Saturday's game the Huskers led

Kearney State 7-4 in the top of the ninth. With two outs Kearney State's catcher Todd Johnson singled. Third baseman Scott Cruickshank tripled and scored Johnson and proceeded home himself on a throwing error by Nebraska catcher Burt Beattie.

Kearney State first baseman Scott Wilson then stepped to the plate and pulled a home run over the right field fence to tie the score at seven. The Huskers failed to score in the bottom of the inning and the game went into extra innings.

In the bottom of the eleventh with two outs, Husker second baseman Larry Mims was hit by pitcher Dan Stein. Mims stole second and then raced home on right fielder Todd Bunge's RBI single to right field.

In Sunday's game, Nebraska led 9-3 after five innings. Sophomore Joel Sealer entered the game replacing starter Mark Honner in the top of the sixth. He struck out his first man but went down hill from there.

In two thirds of an inning Sealer gave up seven runs on three hits and three walks. Kearney State went back on top 10-9.

Sealer returned from the Big Eight basketball tournament Saturday night. He is currently on a basketball scholarship. Nebraska coach John Sanders said Sealer will have to make a decision between baseball and basketball.

"We'll be talking to him about it this week," Sanders said. "He didn't have the repetition, but he has good potential."

Sanders said Sealer's lack of repetition is from lack of practice.

Nebraska went back on top in the bottom of the seventh on first baseman

Bryan Newton's three-run home run. Newton finished the two game series with seven hits on nine attempts, six RBIs and two home runs. He went five for five in Saturday's game.

Kearney State added a run in the eighth inning to move within one of the Huskers, 12-11.

In the top of the ninth inning pinch hitter Scott Bales walked. He moved to second on a balk by Nebraska pitcher Stevens Spurgeon. Sanders replaced Spurgeon with Kevin Merrill. Kearney State's second baseman Tim Miller singled moving Bales to third and Johnson singled scoring Bales and tying the score.

The Huskers retaliated in the bottom of the ninth. With one out Nebraska catcher Mark Kister singled. Sanders replaced him with pinch runner Bruce Wobkens.

Beattie flied out to short center. In attempt to pick off Wobken at first base Kearney State centerfielder threw it past first baseman Wilson. The ball went into the dugout moving Wobken to third base. Designated hitter Jeff Taylor hit an infield single scoring Wobken and the winning run.

Sanders said he didn't think the games would be as close.

"On the basis of past records, I would say not," Sanders said. "But anything can happen in baseball."

He said both games called for situational changes by both teams such as using pinch hitters, different pitchers for certain batters and pinch runners.

The Huskers move its record to 4-0. They host Wayne State Thursday and Friday. Kearney State is now 0-6.

Five Big 8 teams get bids

Iowa State will meet Miami, Ohio, in a Midwest region game.

Nebraska is 6-3, not counting a forfeit win against Kansas State, without all-time leading scorer Dave Hoppen. Nebraska finished tied for second in the Big Eight this season and advanced to the semi-final round of the Big Eight tournament. Since Hoppen's injury, scoring has been spread between all five starters: Chris Logan, John Matzke, Brian Carr, Harvey Marshall and Bernard Day.
