Hefner and Scottsbluff Sen. Bill Nichols are co-chairmen of a Republican party promotion that is organizing state and county fair booths this year that will emphasize Nebraska products.

Free product samples and information will be given out at the booths by county Republican groups and at the Nebraska State Fair by the Nebraska Republican party, Hefner said.

Peace marchers' hosts have mixed reactions

"It was like they would play some music, talk the march up, take donations and leave town," Dyer said. "The marchers appeared to be made up of young trendies who wanted to impress others with their ideals or political statements, and the older veterans who want one last party on the road."

Bill Jones, also of Lincoln, had better luck with his guests. He said though the women marchers had a place to stay at the YWCA, a lot of the men had to find their own lodging. He had two men and one woman stay in his home, all between the energy they seemed to radiate."

ages of 18 and 20. He met the marchers at the Capitol rally held after the march into Lincoln.

"We had a lot of fun," Jones said, "and the girl made us all braided wrist bracelets."

Elizabeth Meyer, executive director of the YWCA of Lincoln, said the approximately 180 women and children who stayed at the YWCA while the marchers were in town were very cooperative and pleasant to be with.

"It was a very positive experience," she said. "I was impressed by the commitment and the level of
