

Season continues without coach

By Jim Ballard
Senior Reporter

The UNL Soccer Club is in need of a coach and a sponsor if they can find one.

"This past year, we've been trying to get funding from a beer company and get a coach," said club treasurer Joe Weist. "Since we don't have one it's been a big problem. A lot of people show up for practice, but it's a little unorganized."

Despite the lack of leadership, the team already has competed in two tournaments this year and is 0-2-1 in duals.

"At Concordia College, we placed second out of four teams, and in a tournament in Kansas City we placed fifth out of eight," Weist said.

Weist said that the Kansas City tournament mainly consisted of Big Eight schools.

"For single games, we play schools around here, like UNO, York, and we go to Iowa State once and then they come here," said Weist. "The best way to go is to get into a tournament, because then you can play three games in one day. It's hard on you, but it's a lot of fun."

The Fall schedule includes a tournament Nov. 8 and 9 in the Uni-Dome at the University of Northern Iowa.

"We play a couple of games in the spring, and that's also when the Big Eight tournament is being held in Boulder, Colorado, this year," he said. "The spring is usually more important, but it's a lot shorter because of the weather, and it's harder to schedule matches."

Weist said the weather hasn't cooperated this season.

"We've played in a lot of mud this year," he said.

The players practice on the Mabel Lee Field, and Weist said anybody can come out and practice with them.

"We never discourage anyone to practice," he said. "We can't guarantee play in any games, but the main purpose we're here is to have fun and to get better at playing soccer."
