

Paul Vonderlage/Daily Nebraskan

Nebraska quarterback Steve Taylor calls out an audible during the Cornhuskers' 30-15 victory over Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl. Taylor completed 11 of 19 passes for 110 yards and one touchdown and rushed for 63 yards and a touchdown on 20 carries in the game.

Nee blames self for loss

Nee said he chose to take full responsibility for the Huskers' conference-opening loss to the Wildcats because it was his responsibility to get Nebraska ready for the contest.

Despite low scores from guard Brian Carr and forward Bernard Day, Nee said he couldn't blame Nebraska's loss on either one of the seniors.

"Bernard is open and we're not getting him the ball," Nee said. "I don't think Brian Carr is responsible in any way for the 32-point loss. They are playing him hard. He's not getting the same shots."

Nee said the fact that the 10-4 Huskers don't have a Wednesday night game this week should help in Nebraska's preparations for their televised contest against Colorado on Saturday. The game, which is scheduled to begin at 1:10 p.m. at the Bob Devaney Sports Center, will be televised locally by Raycom Sports.

Nee said the game against the 5-7 Buffaloes will be a difficult one because Colorado possesses an abundance of strength inside.

The Buffaloes' front line includes 6-10 Matt Bullard and 6-7 Dan Becker at the forward positions and 6-9 Scott Wilke at the center position. Ken Countryman, 6-3, and David Kuosman, 6-4, are Colorado's starting guards.

"I think they (Colorado) have improved drastically since the beginning of the season," Nee said. "They are getting some consistency."

Nee said his friendship with first-year Colorado coach Tom Miller goes back several years, as the two first met when Miller was an assistant coach at Indiana and he was an assistant coach at Notre Dame.

Double standards plague media

Two years ago, Bosworth made a statement that he didn't like Texas' jerseys, or anything about Texas for that matter. He was labeled a "rotten guy" right then and there. Thomas recently made statement of how he hoped the LSU quarterback would last two quarters so he could deck him. He said that if he broke someone's arm on the field that it was just part of the game. Nebraskans rejoiced. They now had a new folk hero.

I can hear it now: "Shame on Brian Bosworth for saying that Texas' jerseys are ugly, but 'hooray' for Broderick Thomas for threatening to break someone's arm during the Sugar Bowl!"
