Dr. Paul Klawitter

Ambulatory Foot-Ankle Clinic

THINK OF YOUR FOOT FUNCTIONING VERY SIMILAR TO THE FRONT END OF YOUR CAR.

When your car's out of alignment
The tires wear out
Uneven stress is placed on the frame
The steering wheel begins to shake
Soon the car functions so badly, you can't drive it

THE MISALIGNED FOOT DOES THE SAME THING.

Pressures develop and trouble starts immediately
Bones move against bones
Ligaments become stretched
Soon the entire alignment of your entire body is faulty

SYMPTOMS OF FAULTY FOOT FUNCTION

- localized foot pain
- then bunions, corns, and calluses
- before long, pain in the knees
- hip pain, leg cramps
- back pain
- and even neck pain-headaches
- fatigue

YOU JUST HURT ALL OVER!

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Former Husker Rodgers faces assault conviction, contempt fine

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO — Former NU football player Johnny Rodgers, the 1972 Heisman Trophy winner, was convicted Wednesday of assault with a deadly weapon and being an felon in possession of a firearm.

Rodgers was sent to county jail immediately by San Diego Superior Court Judge Jack Levitt, who set sentencing for Feb. 25.

Rodgers acted as his own attorney in the case about an allegation that he pointed a gun at a cable TV technician who had come to his home in October 1985 to disconnect his service for non-payment.

He was sentenced to five days in jail for contempt of court for comments he made during his final argument to the jury. He ignored Levitt's instructions to refrain from mentioning a pardon Rodgers claimed he had received on a 1971 grand larceny conviction.

Rodgers was convicted of a gas-station robbery while at Nebraska. He later played professionally for the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League. Rodgers' son Terry is a running back with the Cornhuskers.

Rodgers was fined $600 on a second contempt charge after Levitt suspended a second five-day jail term and placed him on probation.

Before being sentenced on the contempt charges, Rodgers told

Levitt, "I do apologize to the court. I was in a situation where I didn't really know what to do."

Rodgers had dismissed several attorneys appointed to represent him on the case.

Deputy District Attorney Stephen Anser said Rodgers could receive a maximum sentence of four years and eight months in state prison.

Attorney Michael Berg had been appointed by the court to act as an adviser to Rodgers, but Rodgers acted as his own attorney most of the time.

"It was tough," Berg said. "He wasn't prepared. He wasn't capable of representing himself as his own attorney."

Women at top-ranked Utah

Walton said he'll go with four all-arounders against Missouri and Utah — Racine Smith, Jeaneane Smith, Bair and freshman Angie Burdette.

Walton said the meet in Utah will be the toughest ever for his team. Utah averages 9,000 in attendance and its meets are televised locally.

"It would be the dream of all dreams if we could defeat Utah," Walton said. "We're going to have to have the best meet in Nebraska history to win, but I do think we can score high if we put together four good events."

Feb. 7, the women will be host to the Heartland Invitational, which will feature Oklahoma and No. 2 Arizona State.
