America gets tough on Nazis

Austrian president denied U.S. visitation rights

WASHINGTON — Austrian President Kurt Waldheim, accused by Jewish groups of participating in Nazi war crimes, was today barred from entering the United States because of evidence that he persecuted people during World War II, the Justice Department announced.

"The evidence collected . . . establishes a prima facie case that Kurt Waldheim assisted or otherwise participated in the persecution of persons because of race, religion, national origin or political opinion," Justice Department spokesman Terry Eastland said in a statement.

The decision was taken by Attorney General Edwin Meese III on the advice of the State Department's legal affairs bureau.

"The Department of Justice has therefore ordered, as required by law, that Kurt Waldheim's name be added to the Watchlist," said Eastland's statement. "His name will be added to a lookout system 'to alert consular officers as to his prima facie ineligibility for a visa to enter the United States,'" said the statement.

If Waldheim attempts to enter the country, he will be stopped at the border and told that, as he is on the Watchlist, he may not enter. He has the right to an administrative hearing if he wants to contest the matter.

The Justice Department says that, if Waldheim were to be issued an official invitation to visit this country as the head of state, the Justice Department would address the question of whether he should be permitted to enter. As a head of state, he would normally have diplomatic immunity.

In Vienna, meanwhile, a spokesman for Waldheim Gerold Christian, refused all comment for the moment.

President Reagan said he "reaffirmed the close and friendly relations between our two countries and he has stressed how important it is to continue these relations at the same duality."

In Brief

PTL board members won't let Bakker back

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Two members of the new board of the PTL ministry empire said Monday that its founder, the Rev. Jim Bakker, should not be allowed to return in spite of his threat of a "holy war" to regain it.

And the Rev. Bailey E. Smith said the board's chairman, the Rev. Jerry Falwell, is considering resigning at Tuesday's board meeting in Fort Mill and that if he does the rest of the board also might step down.

Smith said from First Baptist Church in Del City, Okla., that he can't say exactly how much donations have decreased because of the PTL scandal and his connection to it, but Falwell has said he has lost $2 million.

Wives likely to adopt husbands traits

PHILADELPHIA — Married couple become more similar over the years, but wives are more likely to change and even adopt the personality and intellectual abilities of their husbands, according to a study.

"The explanation is that it's a function of the family environment and economic resources available in that particular environment and how successful the man is," said Dr. K. Warner Schaie, a professor of human development at Penn State University.

The average age of wives in the study ranges from the mid-40s to the 90s. "We have a lot of couples where the husband is the primary breadwinner," Schaie said in an interview.

Men with better jobs are able to create a family environment that is conducive to intellectual growth, including traveling, attending plays and taking adult education classes, he said.

Demonstrators criticize foreign policies

Hundreds arrested at peaceful CIA protest

McLEAN, Va. — Peace demonstrators protesting Reagan administration policies blocked roadways at CIA headquarters Monday, causing rush-hour chaos in this serene suburban community and inconveniencing hundreds of commuters. There were more than 550 arrests.

There were no incidents of violence in the protest, which culminated three days of demonstrations against American policies in Central America and southern Africa.

CIA spokeswoman Kathy Pherson said that, so far as she knew, it was the first large-scale protest at the agency since the headquarters, about six miles from Washington, D.C., opened 25 years ago.

From shortly after dawn until about 10:30 a.m. EDT, demonstrators sat down on roadways leading to the spy headquarters, preventing vehicle access.

Some were escorted on foot by police to a nearby precinct while others were hauled away in paddy wagons, many with their hands tied behind their backs.

Among those arrested were antiwar activists Daniel Ellsberg, a former Pentagon employee whose peace activism dates back more than 20 years.

Correction

In the April 27 Daily Nebraskan, the 'Black Students Struggle' story incorrectly stated that the survey in the story was conducted by the Afrikan Peoples Union. The survey was conducted with the help of the Multi-Cultural Affairs. APU students took part in the survey, but did not conduct it. The Daily Nebraskan regrets the error.

S. African police, students clash

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Police fired birdshot and tear gas and used whips Monday in running battles with hundreds of student protesters, both blacks and whites, at the University of Cape Town.

It was believed to be the first clash in which police fired guns to control rioting at a predominantly white school, and it was one of the most violent campus disturbances since a national state of emergency was declared in June 1986.

The violence followed a midday rally by anti-apartheid student groups protesting a South African army commando raid on Saturday alleged guerrilla targets in Zambia. After the rally, students singing freedom songs marched through the campus at the foot of Cape Town's Table Mountain.

Journalists who were at the campus said at least five students were hit by birdshot, including one wounded in the face. A free-lance photographer and several students reportedly were hurt by whips.

"IT IS VERY IMPORTANT FOR ME TO HAVE MY CONTACT LENSES FITTED PROPERLY."

Like most people, I'm on the go alot. I tried contact lenses a few years ago and was never really happy. Wearing contacts helped my vision but they became a hassle because of the mild discomfort and occasional fuzzy vision.

I asked several of my friends who wear contacts to recommend a specialist, and most of them recommended Dr. Powell at the International Contact Lens Clinic.

I went to their clinic for a no charge consultation to talk about new contact lenses. Their office offers complete contact lens services and complete optical services including:

- thorough examination, individual fitting, and close supervision
- curbside parking, convenient central Lincoln location
- appointments available lunch hours, and Saturdays
- eight week trial program for
 - close observation of comfort and eye health
 - lens strength or fitting modification if indicated
 - no charge for damaged lenses
- spare glasses, sunglasses and special solutions for sensitive eyes
- a continuing care program — future upgrading of contact lenses as scientific progress is made.

I decided to have them fit my eyes and I was very comfortable with their professional approach, their fees, and their thoroughness.

Everyone in their office helped me become a successful wearer. I consider their office outstanding and I recommended them to all my friends.
