

NU rec office hopes softball remains a hit

SOFTBALL from Page 4

Campbell said he remains optimistic because the entire intramural program showed an increase in participation last year after showing a decrease the previous four years. He said he attributes the increase to the fact that individuals are becoming much more active.

"Our situation has been common," Campbell said.

Campbell said the increase was pleasing to see because a recent study showed that UNL had more non-traditional students than ever before. He said many of these students feel they don't have time to participate in the intramural program because they are either working or raising a family.
