It's not a long wait

Students who found themselves waiting in line for season basketball tickets discovered that the wait wasn't as long as it appeared. Cindy Bell, an administrative technician at the Nebraska ticket office, said the sale will be continued until 3,500 upper bench seats are sold. All the floor seats are sold, Bell said.

I-back situation unclear

By Tim Hartman
Senior Reporter

Strong performances by Nebraska's top three I-backs in Saturday's scrimmage leave it unclear who will see extensive action against Arizona State Saturday, Cornhusker football coach Tom Osborne said after practice Monday.

Osborne said running backs coach Frank Solich would like to alternate between Keith Jones, Ken Clark and Tyrese Knox early in the game and then play whoever is performing best. "They're all real close," Osborne said. "They all scrimmaged and they all practiced well last week. Keith did much better, Tyrese is continuing to come on a little bit better and seems to have a little more intensity and better concentration, and Ken Clark continues to do well."

Quarterbacks Clete Blakeman and Gerri Gdowski practiced, while wingback Dana Brinson and defensive tackle Lee Jones also returned to practice Monday after sitting out with injuries. Osborne said that Gdowski "was probably 75 to 80 percent well," but said he was encouraged by the return of both quarterbacks.

Osborne said the team was able to practice in the stadium because the cleanup from the FarmAid III concert on Saturday was completed on time.

"We really believed in what they were trying to do and the university was supportive, so I think it really worked out well," he said.
