

Art Council at Wesleyan plans artist competition

The Nebraska Wesleyan Art Council is sponsoring its third annual Nebraska Young Artist competition. The contest is open to any artist under 39 years of age as of Dec. 31, 1987, who has lived in Nebraska for the past five years and is no longer a student.

The winner, to be announced Jan. 1, will receive a $300 cash award given in honor of the late Helen Haggie, former cultural affairs editor of the Lincoln Journal and member of the Nebraska Wesleyan Arts Council.

The winning artist will be featured in a one-person show at the University Place Art Center Gallery, 48th and Baldwin, Feb. 12 through March 9.

Last year's recipient was Kirk Pederson of Kearney.

Applications are due Dec. 1. For more information and an application form, contact the council care of Nebraska Wesleyan University, 50th and St. Paul, Lincoln, NE, 68504.

Time to consider.

Actually, it's always time — for a fresh look from a new angle. It's the whole basis of creativity. Of insight. Like what you see here.

Take another look from another perspective and you can tell what it is. ■ At Hewlett-Packard, we're constantly considering things. You might say we're always a new company. That's why we enjoy a constant flow of creativity. That's why we enjoy a leadership position in the marketplace. ■ We're the kind of company that's perfect for a graduate with the courage to see things differently. ■ Consider us today. It could make all the difference. By the way. If you figured this is a clock, you figured right.

■ CS, Business, Engineering Graduates. Interested students invited to reception on Nov. 4, 6pm at The Nebraska Union. Pre-selection for Nov. 5 interviews.
