the conference title in the next few years, his next step is to bring a national championship to Nebraska.

"When I first came here, Nebraska was a traditional seventh- and eighth-place team in the conference," Dirksen said. "(Nebraska track coach) Gary Pepin wanted me to change that, and I did. A national championship is something that one day will hopefully come to Nebraska."

Victory margin surprises Osborne

bruised his shoulder.

Osborne said the biggest surprise of the game was Nebraska's margin of victory against the 4-4 Tigers.

"Before the game I wouldn't have been surprised if it ended in a three-to-seven-point game so I am really surprised at our margin of victory," Osborne said. "Missouri worried me because of their strength and they were very strong in their defensive line. I felt that would be more of a test than Oklahoma State who was more skilled at positions. Missouri is a very good football team and has lost some close games to Indiana, Syracuse and Oklahoma State, but they are probably a better team than six or seven of the teams they played so far this year. It is always nice to win at Missouri." Osborne said although he is starting to feel good about the Huskers, they will have to continue to keep working to prepare for Iowa State. The Cyclones face Nebraska Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

"We're a pretty good team and I am really starting to feel comfortable with our team right now," Osborne said. "I'm pretty sure we will have four more games right now with the bowl game, and three of those four will really be tough games."
