CALL YOUR BBB FOR ASSISTANCE. WE'RE HERE TO HELP.

- Provide unbiased and factual information.
- Mediate buyer-seller disputes. Offer arbitration to settle disputes when mediation fails.
- Protect the buying power of the community.
- Investigate advertising which appears to violate regulations or accepted standards and seek corrections where appropriate.
- Cooperate with law enforcement and regulatory agencies to deal with situations that do not respond to self-regulations.
- Identify and report fraudulent activities both local and national and act on instances of deceptive or unethical business practices.
- Work with industry and trade groups to develop and implement effective programs of voluntary self-regulations.
- Cooperate with other BBB's in our nationwide system exchanging information on a daily basis, especially on fast-moving operations.
- Consumer education programs — helping consumers learn their responsibilities as well as their rights.
- Report on charitable, educational or religious organizations requesting donations.

Consumers and businesses can help support the BBB by contributions to the Cornhusker BBB Foundation. For more information, contact our office.

The Cornhusker BBB is a nonprofit organization supported by the member businesses listed below.

The BBB does not endorse any company, individual, product or service.
