

Packers not interested in NU's McBride

By Mark Derowitsch
Senior Reporter

An official representing the Green Bay Packers denied Wednesday that Nebraska defensive coordinator Charlie McBride has been offered a job with the National Football League team.

Tom Braatz, director of football operations for Green Bay, said the Packers aren't worrying about hiring assistant coaches until a new coach is found. Forest Gregg, who was Green Bay's coach for four years, resigned last month after accepting a similar job at Southern Methodist University.

"It would be a very awkward situation for us to hire an assistant coach since we don't have a coach," Braatz said, "so it is strictly a rumor."

Braatz said McBride, who joined the Nebraska staff 11 years ago after coaching at Wisconsin and Arizona State, was never contacted by Green Bay. He also said the Packers would need permission to talk with McBride before contacting him.

"First, we would call (Nebraska coach) Tom Osborne and ask him if we could talk to his assistant," Braatz said. "We have not done that, and I see no reason for it, because we don't have a coach."

Braatz said Green Bay is in the process of looking for a coach. Michigan State football coach George Perles was offered the job last month but turned it down.

McBride spent six years at Wisconsin before joining Osborne's staff. He served as an assistant coach to Frank Kush at Arizona State before that.

McBride also played one year with the Denver Broncos of the now-defunct American Football League after earning all-Big Eight honors as an end and punter at Colorado.

After playing for Denver, McBride spent one year as a graduate assistant coach at Colorado and then became coach at Fenger High School in Chicago.

McBride was unavailable for comment.

Pat, Spontaneity? Who gave you your first personal? It's up to you if you want to know more. It's your decision.
Spontaneity Plus

Tom, When we met a year ago today, you delighted me with your humor, your openness, your consideration and some very entertaining stories. I soon found you to be understanding, gentle, intelligent, honest, romantic, sincere, patient, generous, responsible, sensual, caring, independent, sexy, tolerant, loving and lovable. Very lovable. Thank you for a year of shared laughter, of quickened breath, of hugs and kisses. I love you.
Teresa

To the fat-kneed movie critic who says "Dates are from Hell": I want to change your mind. I'll take you out for chocolate covered pizza and scooby snacks in the "Mystery Machine." Whataya say?
