

Resounding Jackson win tightens Democratic race

A jubilant Jesse Jackson, fresh from a knockout victory in Michigan's primary-style caucuses, vowed Sunday his Democratic presidential campaign would continue to "win and grow."

Jackson's resounding victory on Saturday dealt a setback to Michael Dukakis' campaign and a possible fatal blow to Richard Gephardt's presidential aspirations.

Dukakis, hit by his second big defeat since Super Tuesday, congratulated Jackson. "I don't think I did very well in Michigan," he said.

Gephardt, who trailed the two leaders, was spending Sunday with his family, deciding what his next move would be. If the Missouri congressman wants to seek re-election to his House seat, he must file for the seat by Tuesday afternoon.

"It was the message of the soul and authenticity of Jesse Jackson versus money and technology — and people prevailed," Jackson told supporters at an airport news conference in New York's Westchester County.

The civil rights activist ran well across Michigan, but racked up enormous majorities in Detroit. In one of the city's congressional districts, Jackson's victory margin was better than 12-1. Overall, he outpolled Dukakis by a nearly 2-1 margin.

Jackson quickly turned to the next battleground, heading for Connecticut, which holds its primary on Tuesday.

With returns from 94 percent of the voting sites in Michigan, Jackson had 107,689, or 55 percent, to 55,337, or 28 percent, for Dukakis. Gephardt had 24,995, or 13 percent. Sen. Paul Simon had 4,069, or 2 percent, and Sen. Albert Gore Jr. had 3,818, or 2 percent.

When Jackson got word of his Michigan victory, he was already campaigning in Wisconsin, which holds its primary on April 5.

In Brief

Sandinistas releasing 100 political prisoners

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — The leftist Sandinista government announced Sunday it was releasing about 100 political prisoners in preparation for further peace talks with U.S.-supported Contra rebels.

An Interior Ministry announcement said the prisoners were to be released Sunday afternoon, but officials refused to give immediate details for security reasons.

In another development, President Daniel Ortega suggested the United Nations send a multinational peacekeeping force to the Nicaraguan-Honduran border to stabilize the area. Ortega said Saturday night that he made the proposal to a U.N. technical commission visiting the border area.

Wright adviser tried to sell weapons to Contras

WASHINGTON — An "eyes-and-ears" adviser to House Speaker Jim Wright tried to sell weapons to the Contras through Lt. Col. Oliver North's private network three months before the Iran-Contra disclosures ended the North operation.

Richard M. Pena, a former House Foreign Affairs Committee staff member, contacted North associate Richard Miller in 1986 offering material from two South American companies. One would sell grenades, bombs and mines, and the other had boots at $33 a pair, according to a letter proposing the sale.

Church officials meet to sanction Swaggart

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — The Assemblies of God hopes to lay the Jimmy Swaggart scandal to rest after the church's highest governing body meets Monday to discipline the television minister for an alleged relationship with a prostitute.

The Pentecostal denomination's 25-member General Presbytery is charged with resolving the conflict between the executive Presbytery, the church's 13-member national board of directors, and church officials in Louisiana who have proposed what some say is too lenient a punishment for Swaggart.
