Tobias Faber, a professor at the School of Architecture of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Copenhagen, Denmark, will lecture Thursday at 4:30 p.m. as part of the Hyde Lecture Series of the College of Architecture at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The free lecture is open to the public and will be in the auditorium of the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery. Faber was head of the Royal Academy's School of Architecture from 1974 until 1985. He has written numerous articles, essays and books about architecture.

will perform Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Kimball Hall. The program includes Robert Bavenschmidt's "Mesozoic Fantasy," a 1956 work that has become a standard for percussion. The percussionists not only play, but also use their voices during the work.

Five of the members will perform Robert Moran's improvisational "Bombardments No. 2." Automobile brake drums, an anvil, a radio, a car coil and a toy metal cricket are featured instruments.

times are 3, 5, 7 and 9 p.m.

Michael von Albrecht, director of the Institute of Classical Studies at the University of Heidelberg, Germany, will speak in the English Department Lounge, Andrews Hall 229, on Friday. The lecture by the German scholar will be titled "George Bernard Shaw and the Classics." It will be at 2 p.m. and is open to the public at no charge.

Alban Barg's opera "Lulu" will be broadcast live from the Metropolitan Opera at 1 p.m. Saturday on KRNU, 90.3 FM. James Levine will conduct, and Catherine Malfitano will sing the title role. Tatiana Troyanos portrays Countess Geschwitz, Ronald Hamilton as Alwa, Barry McCauley as the Painter and the Negro, Franz Mazura as Dr. Schon and Jack the Ripper, Lenus Carlson as the Animal Tamer and the Acrobat, and Andrew Foldi as Shigolch.

Tenor Reginald Pittman, a visiting assistant professor of voice at UNL, will present a faculty recital Monday at 8 p.m. in Kimball Hall.

Pittman's program includes J.S. Bach's "Deposuit," Handel's "Total Eclipse," three works by F.P. Tosti, Ravel's "Don Quichotte a Dulcinee," four Strauss songs and G. Rochberg's "Four Songs of Solomon."

Pittman's performance career has taken him all across the United States and to many European countries. Most recently, he has sung with the Dallas, New Orleans, Birmingham and San Diego operas, and the Jackson Symphony in Mississippi. He is a winner of the Southwest Regional Metropolitan Opera Auditions.

Heather Christensen, a master's degree candidate in flute, will present her degree recital April 7 at 4:30 p.m. in the Sheldon Art Gallery Auditorium.

Assisting her on piano will be Catherine Herbener. The program will include works by Mason, Godard and Jolivet. Christensen will also play Beethoven's "Serenade," assisted by Lisa Watkins, violin, and Christine Wahl, viola.

The free concert is open to the public.

UNL's University Chorale, directed by Carolee Curtright, will tour Arnold, Callaway, Lexington and Central City on Monday and Tuesday.

The chorale is a women's musical ensemble made up of about 50 members from various UNL colleges.

UNL's Percussion Ensemble, directed by Professor Albert Rometo,
