

Sower

See How They Run . . .

'We (farmers) felt it was a social issue; that it wasn't just a farm issue and that if farmers were going to be saved, they couldn't do it themselves. They (farmers) had to reach out and they had to view this question as a social justice issue.'

—Merle Hansen

'I'm one of those people who can't stand to sit and listen to someone complain about what's going on in the world when they haven't voted in the last two elections.'

—Mike Miller
