Lewis said he was glad he got the victory, especially against Ortmann. "It was a great fight because he was really, really cocky," Lewis said. "He walked around like he was God on campus, so it was good to beat him."

The seventh bout featured an all-out slugfest between Sigma Chi's Dale Ortmann and Phi Gamma Delta's Mitchell Lewis. Lewis, a 190-pounder from Omaha, survived Ortmann's third-round charge for the win.

Injuries give reserves their day

By Tim Hartmann
Senior Reporter

Nebraska football fans who attended Saturday's Red-White game to watch quarterbacks Steve Taylor, Gerry Gdowski and Mickey Joseph left Memorial Stadium disappointed.

But reserve quarterbacks Jerry Dunlap and Tom Haase were anything but disappointing in the Reds' 37-14 win against the Whites.

Taylor and Gdowski, the Cornhuskers' top two quarterbacks, watched the scrimmage from the sidelines. Taylor was out with a thigh pull, while Gdowski was held out because of a collarbone injury.

Joseph started the game for the Red team, which is comprised of first- and fourth-team players, but only played five minutes before a strained knee forced him to the sidelines.

The injuries to the top three quarterback gave Dunlap and Haase a chance that they said they hadn't really expected.

"I was just real glad I got the opportunity to play," Dunlap said.

Dunlap, a redshirt freshman, started at quarterback for the White team, which was comprised of players from the second and third teams, and completed 10 of 19 passes for 122 yards. He also rushed for 28 yards, including a 15-yard touchdown run in the first quarter that gave the White squad a 7-0 lead.

The White team trailed the Reds 14-7 at halftime, but held a 191 to 124 advantage in total offensive yards. In the second half, the Red team outscored the Whites 23-7.

"I don't know what the difference was in the second half," Dunlap said.

Despite the loss, Dunlap said he was pleased with the way spring practice went. He said the injuries to Taylor and Gdowski gave him a chance to get in a lot of snaps with the offense, which will benefit him next season.

"The only thing I have trouble with is defensive line reads," he said. "I've felt a lot of improvement from last year to this year."

Dunlap spent most of the game going against the first-string defense. He said facing one of the best defenses in the country will help him improve his game.

Next fall, Dunlap said, he hopes the improvement he has made this spring will help him move up the depth chart, but he is unsure of what his role will be.

"I have no idea," Dunlap said. "I'm just coming back and playing as hard as I can, and hopefully I'll move up."

Haase, a freshman, said he will probably redshirt this fall. Haase took over for the injured Joseph and completed five of eight passes for 43 yards and rushed for 35 yards.

"I really didn't make too many mistakes, I thought," Haase said. "I just wanted to play under control. I just wanted to show some confidence out there because I never ran with the first team at all the whole spring."

Haase said that even though he played well, he was still looking to improve in a number of areas. He said he needs to work on reading the defense, learning the offense and his passing.

"I'm really not comfortable with the passing system yet," he said. "I don't have enough practice, I always get flustered and get out (of the pocket) quick."

"I'll have to get a lot bigger, and learn the offense more," he said. "I'm in no hurry, so I'll just take things as they come."

Sanders signs baseball recruit

Nebraska baseball coach John Sanders announced that he has signed Jerry Madison, a pitcher-outfielder from Beatrice, to a letter of intent.

Madison, a former teammate of Cornhusker freshman pitcher Doug Tegtmeier, compiled a 10-4 record and a 1.88 earned run average while recording 127 strikeouts in 82 innings last summer while pitching in the Beatrice Junior Legion League. He also hit .361 and stole 22 bases as a center fielder.

Sanders said Nebraska will use Madison as an outfielder and pitcher.

"Jerry is truly a gifted athlete," Sanders said.
