

FINALS RELIEF

CATCH the Applause VIDEO

ONLY AT Applause YOUR HOMETOWN VIDEO SUPERMARKET

SPRING Video FEVER

CATCH UP ON ALL YOUR FAVORITES

99c RENTALS*

Free POPCORN AND BALLOONS

Special 99c EACH

MOVIE RENTAL PRICE... VHS & BETA AVAILABLE

Applause VIDEO

5 LOCATIONS OPEN 10-10

LINCOLN

89TH STREET
WEST

464-5678

Next to Caco N.W. Corner

LINCOLN

0' ST.
WEST

GOLD'S GALLERIA

11TH STREET

476-8609

LINCOLN

A' STREET
WEST

CLOCKTOWER EAST

70TH STREET

483-7669

ALAMO

HWY. 2

56TH ST.

423-1614

PICCADILLY

HOLDREGE ST.

66TH ST.

466-4910

* Does not include New Releases or Adult Titles

Senators discuss campaigns

SENATE from Page 7

Zorinsky." Daub says he has more agriculture experience than both of his opponents combined. He refers to Karnes and Kerrey as his opponents, because, he said, Michaelis is not a "major contender."

Daub said he has written several pieces of farm legislation. He said he was fighting for the 1985 Farm Bill, when others were criticizing it.

Both Karnes and Daub received at least part of their education at UNL and said their top goals include improved education and increased federal financial aid for students.

Karnes said he co-sponsored a bill that would allow people to buy savings bonds, without paying interest, to pay for tuition.

That kind of legislation, Karnes said, goes back to the good old days of planning education.

"We need to recognize the fact that people need to start planning and saving for education," Karnes said.

Daub said he would like to revise the repayment schedule for college student loans.

Students shouldn't have to pay a given amount each month toward their student loan, the payment should be based on income, he said.

Kerrey, who was unavailable for comment last week, will be running against Michaelis in the Democratic primary.

Michaelis said he was elected to Cuming County Attorney in 1978, but did not serve.

Michaelis said the reason he is running against Kerrey is because Kerrey "did nothing" as Nebraska's governor and Democrats need someone to believe in.

Michaelis said his other motivation for running is his concern for the plight of the poor and the disadvantages of the oppressed.

As a U.S. senator, Michaelis said he would work to improve education, not only at universities but at elementary and high schools.

Michaelis said there hasn't been a decent Nebraska U.S. senator since George W. Norris was in office.

Speech team places 13th in Arizona

University of Nebraska-Lincoln's forensics team earned its seventh national top-20 finish this decade when it placed 13th in the national individual speaking events championships at Arizona State University April 21-25.

Greg Coffey, a senior from Lincoln, placed 14th among the estimated 1,000 competitors. In individual events, Coffey finished in the top 10 in persuasive speaking and extemporaneous speaking and in the top 20 in impromptu speaking and rhetorical criticism.

The team's coach, Jack Kay, professor of speech communication, said he was thrilled with the team's 13th place finish because six of the eight UNL team members were in their first or second year with the team.

Eight contend for positions on NU board

REGENTS from Page 6

zations," he said. Prokop said the Curtis school should remain because it is an educational program.

However, he said, he doesn't think anything needs to be cut now because the university has enough money.

The Nebraska Legislature has given NU too much help in some ways, he said.

Margaret Robinson of Norfolk is the only candidate running in district three.

Robinson has been the chairwoman of Norfolk Iron and Metal Company since 1974 and was also on the Norfolk Board of Education for 14 years. Robinson has been a member of the Board of Regents for six years.

Robinson said school districts need to prepare students better before they come to the university, but the university also has an obligation to provide students with the education they need.

"We're going to have to do more to attract to the university the outstanding students," she said. "We have to do a better job of selling the university."

Robinson said the university has programs of excellence now, but the university needs to do more public relations to attract outstanding students not just from Nebraska, but surrounding states.

"We have to commit ourselves to the growth of the university," she said.

Robinson said that the university has come a long way in faculty salaries, but "we are still not where we need to be."

Robinson said she wasn't sure what the role of Curtis should be, but "that wasn't a decision that was mine to make."

Running in district five are incumbent Robert Koefoot of Grand Island and Robert Allen of Hastings.

Allen has been the owner of Allen's of Hastings department store since 1958. He was on the school board in 1972 and was mayor in 1976.

"I've always had my eye on the Board of Regents," Allen said.

Allen said a main issue is how to keep talented teaching staff and get new ones. NU ranks near the bottom, he said, but "they've done better recently."

NU administration is unwieldy and "needs to be looked at," he said.

Allen also stressed that NU can't be all things to all people.

"Mediocrity has to be eliminated," Allen said. "You have to or you don't survive. It's a constant battle."

"I have the feeling in education that some of the programs should be adjusted and be really good. Where we can't do a good job, we have to admit it."

Allen said, however, that the Curtis school should remain open.

Koefoot was on vacation and unavailable for an interview last week.

Considering College—

"Experience the Best"

- ★ ★ Nebraska's First Technical College
- ★ ★ Excellent Placement
- ★ ★ 20 Minutes from Downtown Lincoln
- ★ ★ Financial Aid and Scholarships
- ★ ★ On-Campus Housing
- ★ ★ Tuition Only $245 per Quarter

Southeast community college
Milford Campus

Openings in . . .

- Air Conditioning
- Architecture
- Computer Programming
- Diesel Farm
- Diesel Truck/Construction
- Electronics
- Electrical
- Electromechanical
- Machine Tool & Design
- Manufacturing Engineering Technology
- Surveying & Computer Aided Drafting
- Industrial Welding & Metallurgy

Summer Quarter Classes Begin July 7

We Could Be The Answer!

Call Today!

The Milford Campus

(402) 761-2131 or (800) 445-4094 (NE)

Coming Monday and Tuesday, May 2-3
From Austin, Texas

JR. MEDLOW
and the Bad Boys

"...really hot and tearing it up in Austin!"

--Fort Worth Star Telegram

"Duarte is an amazing guitarist, and Junior's a stone-soul man up front...The band had them screaming for more way past two."

--Austin Chronicle

THE ZOO BAR

136 North 14th Street