SUMMER JOB

For Marketing Oriented, Engineering/Architectural Student Who Successfully Completed Reinforced Concrete Design Course(s)

Systems Intersect, an affiliate of Kelly Klosure, a Fremont-based manufacturer of construction equipment for over 20 years, has a summer position available for a personable, success-oriented engineering student who has successfully completed at least one reinforced concrete design course. The successful candidate will use a telephone and a multiple stage mailing of professional/technical literature to introduce and hopefully sell a new lap splicing device to structural design professionals, concrete contractors and accessory distributors in selected target markets across the country. The job requires a person with professional, pleasant and confident telephone communication skills. Minimal drafting skills, as well as experience using personal computers will also be desirable. The job offers a base wage and bonus schedule which provides the opportunity to earn $6.00 to $8.00 per hour. If interested don't hesitate. Please call Cindy Colfman Monday thru Friday.
