associates with their country - farmlands, the prairies, the cities of the states - the common visions about freedom.

He gave us even more knowledge and opinions: "It's too bad you have to grow up." "The most powerful man ever was FDR. He put 100 pieces of legislation through in 100 days." "Enlightened women are the only hope for the world." "Hunter S. Thompson is one of the most tremendous writers I've ever heard of. Some people will take him as an example that you can take drugs and live. That's not true."

When I asked people what bar I should check out while in western Nebraska, all of them mentioned Ole's Big Game Lounge in Paxton.

The lounge is rich with the past, yet continues with plans for the future. Rosser O. Herstedt - Ole - opened the bar at 12:01 a.m., Aug. 9, 1933, and was the first to serve beer in Nebraska after prohibition was repealed.

The bar is filled with relics of Ole's hobby - big game hunting. When we walked into the bar, we were greeted by a polar bear in a glass cage. He's in a ferocious stance on a mound of snow. Everywhere I looked, there was a pair of eyes staring back at me, it was kind
