Make a stand on improving the world's health care system by participating as a volunteer in the research of new and existing pharmaceutical products. The services Harris Laboratories offer help insure that important new medications are brought to the nations health care consumers safely, quickly, and economically. Harris has a constant need for healthy male volunteers, ages 19 to 55, to participate in these studies. All studies are preceded by a physical examination and carefully explained and supervised by medical personnel. Volunteers receive from $100 to $2000 for their participation. To find out if you qualify to participate in a study, call 474-0627, Monday through Friday from 7:30 to 4:30.
