until maybe the last part of the game."

Neither Osborne or Jayhawk coach Glen Mason said they thought Nebraska ran up the score. Mason said he was happy with his players' effort.

"I believe you've got to play one play at a time," Mason said. "We did that. I'm just proud of them. We didn't give up, we just got beat by a better football team. No embarrassment in that. If anybody thinks our team gave up, they're crazy. I feel good about the way we hung in there."

Nebraska senior tight end Todd Millikan, who had three receptions for 57 yards and a touchdown, said Osborne wanted the Huskers to play a strong 1st quarter. In its previous five games, Nebraska had been outscored 48-30 in the 1st period.

Nebraska responded by scoring 28 unanswered points in the opening quarter and held the Jayhawks to 30 total yards of offense. The Huskers scored every time they had the ball in the quarter and racked up 198 yards.

After Kansas received the opening kickoff and was unable to move the ball, it punted to Husker junior wingback Richard Bell, who returned the ball 14 yards to Kansas' 33-yard line. It took Nebraska six plays and 2:20 to score on Taylor's 1-yard run.

Kansas' 2nd possession started at its 20-yard line and ended at the Huskers' 49. The drive was aided by two Nebraska penalties, which accounted for 20 yards.

Kansas junior punter B.J. Lohsen punted the ball to the Nebraska 3-yard line. The Huskers took 2:21 and seven plays to score on Millikan's 22-yard touchdown pass from Taylor. Nebraska held Kansas on its next possession and after another Lohsen punt, took over on its 42-yard line. On the 2nd play of the drive, Taylor gained 18 yards on a run but got up slowly after he was tackled by Kansas linebacker Jason Tyrer. Osborne said Taylor suffered a pinched nerve in his shoulder. He later returned for a brief stint in the 2nd quarter.

Junior Gerry Gdowski entered the game for the injured Taylor and led the Huskers on the final 39 yards of the drive in two plays. Tyrese Knox carried both plays and scored on a four-yard run.

Nebraska's final 1st-quarter score came after Kansas quarterback Kelly Donohoe was sacked for an eight-yard loss and Lohsen punted to the Nebraska 36-yard line. Junior split end Morgan Gregory fielded the punt and raced 64 yards to the end zone.

"They (the blockers) set up a real good wall and I just had to make sure I caught the ball and got to the wall," Gregory said. "Then I had one guy a little bit outside the wall who got a little piece of me, but I was able to stay up and then just run it in the end zone from there."

The Huskers' first 2nd-quarter drive ended in Nebraska's 5th score, which was set up by Knox's 51-yard run. Knox's run helped set up freshman fullback Lance Lewis' 5-yard touchdown run, which gave Nebraska a 35-0 lead.

The Jayhawks moved the ball to the Nebraska 29-line but had to settle for a 50-yard field goal by sophomore Brad Fleeman. Fleeman's kick was the 1st field goal for Kansas this year and hit the bottom of the upright before bouncing through.

The Huskers responded with a five-play, 71-yard drive in 1:20. Fullback Bryan Carpenter scored on a 31-yard run to give the Huskers a 42-3 lead.

After Kansas and Nebraska exchanged possessions, Donohoe teamed with senior wide receiver Willie Vaughn on an 89-yard touchdown pass. Vaughn's reception was the longest pass play against the Huskers since 1976.

Nebraska then put together an eight-play, 61-yard drive. Freshman quarterback Mickey Joseph contributed 42 rushing yards to the drive, setting up freshman I-back Leodis Flowers one-yard scoring burst.

Nebraska ended the 1st half with a 49-10 lead. Seven Huskers scored touchdowns.

In the 2nd half, the Huskers scored one touchdown in each quarter. Taylor scored 1st on a one-yard run in the 3rd quarter and Joseph finished the scoring in the 4th period with a two-yard run.

Nebraska rolled 665 yards of total offense -- its 9th best team offensive performance since 1962. Knox led all rushers with 120 yards on six carries.

Osborne says Cowboys are 'as good as anybody'

Bell's 55-yard punt return for a touchdown was nullified by a roughing-the-kicker penalty.

Nebraska had 12 penalties for 100 yards. The high number of penalties is a concern, Osborne said.

Osborne said Nebraska will need to play well next Saturday against the Oklahoma State Cowboys, who are 4-0 and ranked 13th in both national wire polls. The Cowboys defeated Colorado 41-21 Saturday at Boulder, Colo.

'If you look at the stats, (Oklahoma State) looks as good as anybody in the country.'

-- Osborne

"If you look at the stats, these guys look as good as anybody in the country," he said.

Osborne said the Cowboys' skill-position players, including split end Hart Lee Dykes, quarterback Mike Gundy and tailback Barry Sanders, are as good as anybody in the nation.

"I don't think there are very many schools that have three players on the same team of that quality," Osborne said.

the 15-9 win. The victory was aided by Novak, who finished with four kills.

Colorado then capitalized on mental mistakes by Nebraska as well as a strong performance by middle hitter Lisa Soulliere to win the third game.

The Huskers responded by using three ace serves by Baker and two by Barsness to record the 15-7 decision in the final game.

Pettit said Nebraska can't be satisfied with the win.

"We'll have to see what happens," he said, "but hopefully, we'll return to Nebraska form next time."

Nebraska's next match is on Tuesday against Iowa State in Ames, Iowa. The match will begin at 7 p.m.
