

Photo illustration

Women are not the only ones affected by domestic violence. The drawing, done by a child in the Friendship Home, shows another perspective.

“I thought I was the only one until I came here and found out there were others.”

-- a former client at Lincoln's Friendship Home