

Comparing Circular and Linear World Views

Circular World View	Linear World View
harmony with nature balance group emphasis oneness with environment	conquer nature dominion individual emphasis separate from environment aims at distancing the self from all that is outside of it mystical holistic present orientation communal property intuitive	skeptical sequential future orientation private property logical

John Bruce/Daily Nebraskan

Clockwise from far lower left: A small group of urban Indians and their friends protest outside the Indian Arts Expo Oct. 20-23. The group protested what they called exploitation of Indian culture by the sponsors of the expo, U S West and United Arts of Omaha. The sponsors used Indian art for their own benefit; and refused support to Nebraska Indians in times of need, the protesters alleged; Tonya Sperry, 9, looks on as Harmony Handy, 11, blows a bubble while waiting for the grand march to begin at the powwow; An Indian dances during the grand march at the powwow in Omaha.

Back Cover: A Winnebago Indian passes by a broken window at the Blackhawk Community Center on the Winnebago reservation.

Story by Mick Dyer
 Photos by Butch Ireland