

COLAGE to ask for financing

money carries over from year to year. The surplus from the 1987-88 year funded last year's budget.

UPC-City will ask for increases from 1988-89, including the American and Foreign films, Walpurgisnacht and Arts committees. The American Minority Council, Black Special Events, Chicano Entertainment and Asian American committees also are seeking increases.

Dances and Cornstock will ask for $12,156, up from $10,308 in 1988-89. Other UPC-East committees, including Main Events, are requesting increased funding.

Green said she felt UPC's budget was as trim as it could be, "Cutting money will result in cutting programs," she said.

Green said alterations would be made by UPC in its budget yet today. She said the overall budget request would more than likely remain the same. UPC will present the revised budget tonight.

CFA will make its Fund A recommendations Tuesday, which include UPC, the Daily Nebraskan and the Association of Students of the University of Nebraska. The recommendations will then be approved or adjusted by the ASUN Senate, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs James Griesen and Chancellor Martin Masengale.

Official: Bill is 'false security' thinks the bill is a "great vehicle" for the Legislature to assure emergency workers that they would be notified. The bill would enable the hospital to extend infection control procedures into the field, he said.

The four people testifying against the bill said many problems still exist with the bill.

Lori Snyder of the Lincoln/Lancaster County AIDS Task Force said the bill would give emergency care workers a "false sense of security."

Snyder said emergency personnel would be informed only if the health department had a record of the patient as having a communicable disease. Many people with communicable diseases haven't been tested, so would not be on record, she said. Snyder said those with diseases currently on record are the "small tip of the iceberg."

Another problem is the bill does not provide for testing of patients with whom the emergency care provider was exposed, she said.

Those testifying agreed that the bill needs to be amended.

A coalition of health care groups are meeting to determine the exact amendments needed and hope to have a consensus Feb. 7. Testifiers said one amendment definitely needed is a definition of "significant exposure." A provision for disease testing of patients is another issue that needs to be dealt with, they said.

These amendments will probably be attempted on the legislative floor.
