

Husker women earn national-qualifying times

middle distance runner Yvonne van der Kolk, who is injured, and All-American Linetta Wilson, who had ROTC duties last weekend.

Pepin also said long jumper Kim Guthrie was injured during the meet's long jump competition.

Pepin said the Husker women, who have won nine consecutive outdoor and 10 consecutive indoor Big Eight titles, were beaten by a good team from the Atlantic Coast Conference. North Carolina claimed its second consecutive ACC indoor title this season.

"We were not very aware of what North Carolina had as a team," he said. "They were good. They have one of the better teams in the country."

The Nebraska women claimed three event titles in national-qualifying times. The highlight of the meet occurred when senior Sammie Resh recorded a school record en route to winning the 5,000-meter run in 16:17 minutes.

"It's very unusual in a race of that distance that someone run that fast all by herself, because she was essentially all by herself," Pepin said.

Also winning for the women were Renita Robinson in the triple jump with a leap of 42 feet, 2 inches, and Nora Rockenbauer in the javelin with distance of 176-4.

Nebraska won seven events in the men's competition, including a pair of victories by Dicudonne Kwizera. Kwizera, who Pepin said was questionable because of an ankle injury, won the 800 in 1:49.95 and the 1,500 in 3:46.38.

"Kwizera doubling in the 800 and 1,500 was really pleasing, because with his ankle injury we had real doubts," Pepin said.

Nebraska also picked up wins from Kevin Coleman in the shot put, Grant Rathman in the high jump and Jeff Hooper in the discus.

In addition, Dwight Mitchell claimed the triple jump with a jump of 49-8 1/2 and Dale Burrage won the 400 hurdles with a time of 51.27.

Pepin said Burrage's performance in the hurdles was a plus.

"It was real good to see Dale Burrage win the 400 hurdles," he said. "A year ago on this same day he won at the Texas Relays. He's real important to us and it was good to see that."
