

Jernigan gets two homers

Huskers sweep Wayne State 14 - 0, 15 - 1

For Nebraska first baseman Frankie Jernigan, being third has its advantages.

Jernigan, who batted third in the lineup, homered in both games of a double header Wednesday as the Nebraska baseball team swept Wayne State 14-0 and 15-1.

The 5-foot-10, 195-pound freshman from Muncie, Ind., walked twice, scored four runs and had five RBIs overall against Wayne State.

Batting third helped, Jernigan said, because opposing pitchers throw him a lot of fast balls to avoid pitching to clean-up hitter Bobby Benjamin.

"If I'm not hitting the ball like I'm supposed to, it makes it tough on (the rest of the line up)," Jernigan said.

Jernigan, who got his first home run of the season Saturday against Oklahoma, said he wasn't going for the home runs against Wayne State.

"I was just swinging, trying to get the head of the bat on the ball," Jernigan said.

Because college pitchers throw faster than in high school, Jernigan said he struggled earlier in the season.

But now, he said, he thinks he has made the adjustment.

"I'm seeing the ball very well right now."

Nebraska baseball coach John Sanders said he decided to move Jernigan into the starting line up earlier in the season when Nebraska was struggling offensively.

"Frankie has shown us that he's always prepared (to play)," Sanders said. "When he's been given the chance, he's produced."

Sanders said Jernigan is a mature hitter for a freshman because he doesn't strike out a lot and doesn't swing at many bad pitches.

"He knows that as long as he gets on base, he'll have a spot in the starting line up," Sanders said.

But it didn't matter who was in the starting line up Wednesday.

The Huskers collected 30 hits and 20 walks against the Wildcats, using at least 17 players during each game.

Ken Ramos led the Huskers with six hits, while Ken Sirak had five hits and Benjamin had four hits.

Benjamin, who set a Nebraska record with 21 home runs last season, homered and doubled twice against Wayne State.

On the mound, Tim Smith, 2-1, and Jerry Madison, 1-1, were the winning pitchers for the Huskers.

Sanders said he was pleased by both the Huskers' pitching and offensive production against Wayne State.

"I thought we improved significantly since the first time we played them," he said.

The Huskers opened the season this year against Wayne State, beating the Wildcats in a double header 7-0 and 11-4.

Today Nebraska, 17-13, travels to Wichita State to play the Shockers in a 7 p.m. game. Wichita State, 34-5, is ranked fifth by Baseball America and sixth by Collegiate Baseball.

Pat Leinen, 3-2, is scheduled to be the starting pitcher for Nebraska.
