Street dance adds Texas excitement

By Connie L. Sheehan
 Senior Editor

Reading over twenty promotion reviews for the LeRoi Brothers has led me to believe that the music industry can only agree on three things about this Texas band.

First, the LeRoi Brothers aren't brothers and no one is named LeRoi.

And everyone agrees that no one can agree on the type of music erupting from this group.

But most all critics do equate the LeRoi Brothers with excitement.

The LeRoi Brothers' style must definitely be unique. When the musical experts can't decide whether this band rocks, swings, bops or sways, then the decision must be the listeners.

So grab your dancing shoes and head for the KFMQ Haymarket Street Dance Friday night, where the Kansas City Star promises, "only the catatonic can keep their feet still."

If you happened to be one of the lucky 8,000 who wiggled through the crowd towards the stage and onto the dance "floor" at last year's street dance, then you most likely already have your toes tapping.

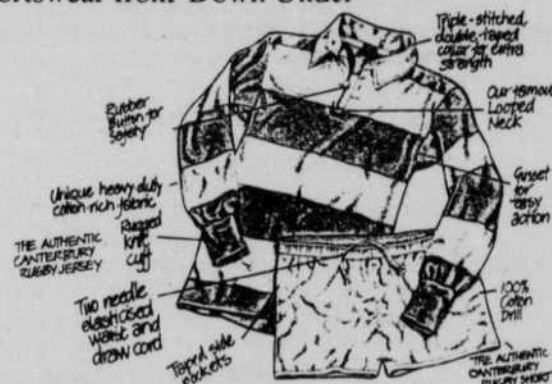

But this year, the stomping ground has been moved. Construction in the Haymarket area has moved the party down the street and around the corner. Although dance-goers will be able to hear the music for blocks, note the official dance location, between 7th and 8th streets under the O Street viaduct.

This will be one of the few times you can feel lucky about being old(er) because only those 21 or older will be admitted. Beer will be served and ID's will be checked.

This will be the one and only chance to party with the pros, Austin-style, so be there Friday at 9 p.m. Unless of course you want to catch them again at the Zoo bar on Saturday for $4.

G'day!
