New Nebraska assistant softball coach Lori Sippel offers instruction.

Wolforth says he hopes softball team can improve upon last doubleheader

By Darran Fowler
Senior Reporter

If the Nebraska softball team plays the way it did in its last doubleheader, the outcome of today's games with the University of Nebraska at Omaha also may be the same.

The games will begin at 6 and 8 p.m. tonight at the NU softball complex. All University of Nebraska-Lincoln students who show their student IDs will be admitted free.

Nebraska, 1-1, opened its season last Friday against NAIA opponent Kearney State. The Cornhuskers lost the opening game by a score of 5-1.

That loss marked the first time Kearney State defeated Nebraska since April 7, 1981. Nebraska won the second game 11-1 by the 10-run rule in the fifth inning.

The series record between Nebraska and UNO stands at 19-16, with the Huskers winning all three meetings between the two teams last fall.

Husker coach Ron Wolforth said Nebraska will have to play better than it did in the first game against Kearney State in order to prevent the same results.

"They're (UNO) a good ball club," Wolforth said. "I put them on the same par as Kearney. If we play fairly well, we should win the ball games. If we don't play well, anything can happen."

Although Wolforth said he wants to win, he re-emphasized the fact that the Huskers' record during the fall season is irrelevant.

He said he knows Nebraska will be a good team next spring -- when the wins and losses count.

"We're just trying to make our improvements over the fall," he said. "You can learn as much from losing as you can from winning."

Fourteen of Nebraska's 18 players are freshmen and sophomores. The Huskers' roster includes two seniors and two juniors, with both juniors, pitcher Stephanie Skegas and second baseman Michelle Cuddeford, being transfers.

"It was a first game and it looked like a first game," Wolforth said. "We're going to look shaky at times."

Wolforth said he learned more about his players in the loss against Kearney State than he did in the Huskers' 10-run victory.

The first game was televised by NETV on a tape-delay basis. Wolforth said he forced himself to watch the contest. He said he was pleased to see that Nebraska did not look as bad as he thought.

"I wasn't nearly as disappointed in our effort as when the game was going on," he said. "I thought we were further along than I realized. Our hitting was better than I realized. We hit the ball hard, but I thought we were not as aggressive as we should be."

Wolforth said he was disappointed with the play of the outfield. Coming into the season, he said, the outfield was one of the Huskers' strengths.

The outfield has been slowed by the absence of center fielder Kristin
