

THEFT from Page 1

theft that occurred in Oldfather Hall last spring.
During that theft, somebody also stole some computer equipment from the political science department, Cauble said. There also was no sign of forced entry in that theft, he said. Computer thefts at UNL appear to increase around graduation, Cauble said.

Some people theorize that graduates may be taking them, Cauble said, but so far that is only a theory.

police
REPORT

Beginning midnight Tuesday, Dec. 12

12:45 p.m. -- Radio reported stolen from vehicle parked in Area 1, 18th and R streets, $300.

1:04 p.m. -- License plate reported stolen from vehicle parked at 27th and O streets, $10. Trees reported vandalized at 40th and Layton streets, $100.

1:29 p.m. -- Two-vehicle, non-injury accident reported in Area 25,

16th and W streets, $650.
2:08 p.m. -- Disturbance reported in Smith Hall. No arrests.

4:20 p.m. -- Back pack reported stolen from Nebraska Union, $225.

4:46 p.m. -- Purse and contents reported stolen from Dental College, $160.

5:01 p.m. -- Back pack reported stolen from Nebraska Union, $100.

5:47 p.m. -- Science book reported stolen from Love Library, $39.

HIGHER ED from Page 1

Harold Enarson, a member of the LB247 consultant study team, expressed disapproval of Miller's suggestion. The move would "strip the board of trustees of one of its most fundamental powers," Enarson said.

The committee recommended empowering the new board of regents effective July 1, 1991. Daryl Hall of Kearney expressed concern about making that recommendation now.

"If this is the answer to the higher education question, it should be as good six months from now as it is today," he said.

FOSSIL from Page 1

A grant from the National Science Foundation made it possible for the division of vertebrate paleontology to move the fossils and to renovate the research collection, Hunt said.

Renovation of the collection includes upgrading records, improving storage areas and applying preservatives to the fossils, Hunt said.

Unless preservative hardeners are applied, fossils that have not been mineralized will break apart, Hunt said. He said older fossils usually have enough minerals in them to prevent decaying, but newer fossils, such as those from the Ice Age, will decay.

Hugh Genoways, director of the museum, said the move will help preserve the fossils and make it easier for scholars to study them.

He said some of the fossils have been lost because their current storage is "not much different than if they were stored outside."

Hunt said the collection eventually will be computerized so researchers nationwide will be able to use it.

"If this is the answer to the higher education question, it should be as good six months from now as it is today."

--Hall

State Sen. Ron Withem of Papillion said the committee really didn't have time to postpone an implementation date for the interim board of regents.

The proposal will go before the Legislature in its January session. An amendment to the Nebraska State Constitution would be required to change the current governance system.

"The constitutional amendment needs to pass in the '90 session," said Withem, co-chairman of the committee. "Otherwise, the amendment will have to wait until '92."

But Withem said after the meeting that he thinks the Legislature will look at the proposal very seriously.

"I think there's going to be a lot of support for it," Withem said.

in brief
NEWS

Love Library hours extended

Love Library's hours are extended during dead week and finals week to accommodate studying University of Nebraska-Lincoln students.

Today through Dec. 21 the library will be open 8 a.m. to 2 a.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 2 a.m. Saturday and noon to 2 a.m. Sunday.

Award nominations to be opened

Nominations will be opened Jan. 15 for the Sue Tidball Award for Creative Humanity at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The award recognizes those who have made significant contributions, beyond usual job or role expectations, to a more creative and humane learning, working and living environment on campus.

Congratulations!
and best of luck to:

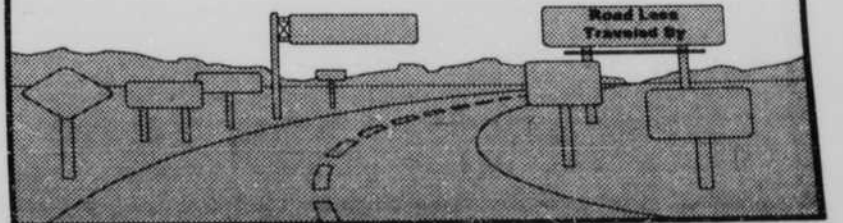

- Lori Beck
- Michelle Belohrad
- Lisa Bolin
- Kendra Gill
- Eric Gregory
- Jane Jennifer Hirt
- Karla Nuss
- Laura Smith
- Brian Svoboda
- Michele Tilley
- Joeth Zucco

from the staff of the

Daily Nebraskan

*I shall be telling this with a sigh
somewhere ages and ages hence:
two roads diverged in a wood, and I -- took the one less travelled by,
and I worried, would there be a bank in the box?*

--Robert Frost
'The Road Not Taken'
First Draft

With Macintosh
you can even do this:

Macintosh® computers have always been easy to use. But they've never been this easy to own. Presenting The Macintosh Holiday Special. For a limited time, you can save hundreds of dollars on a variety of Apple® Macintosh computers and peripherals.

So now there's no reason to settle for an ordinary PC. With The Macintosh Holiday Special, you can wind up with much more of a computer. Without spending a lot more money.

File

- New ⌘N
- Open... ⌘O
- Close
- Save ⌘S
- Save As...
- Print... ⌘P
- Quit ⌘Q

© 1989 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc.

The Macintosh Holiday Special.

THE COMPUTER SHOP
University Bookstore
Lower Level - Nebraska Union
472-5785