cover, he said. Specials have included 99 cent pitchers on Wednesdays and half-price drinks for students with college identification.

"We have drink specials, but I'm not pushing drinks," he said. "I want to do pop specials too."

The most important thing is creativity, he said.

"We want to do different things all the time. I've got some really crazy ideas, and that's what life's all about," he said. "Elvis has been seen here, and he'll probably be back."

He said he came up with many of his ideas while working as a disc jockey for about 20 years in Nebraska and Kansas. He said he often would do broadcasts from local bars and over the years found out what kind of music people liked to hear.

"I think it gave me a real insight into people," he said. "There's a lot to learn about spinning records."

Mortensen said he's using his experience to improve his own bar and to train the disc jockeys.

"Our disc jockeys are really crazy," he said. "They have a good time."

The disc jockeys play mostly classic rock from the '60s and '70s with a few songs from the '80s, he said.

"If it has a good dance beat," he said, "we'll do it."

But Mortensen said there are some things M.R. Ducks won't be doing.

"We're not going to have a wet T-shirt night," he said.

M.R. Ducks is open from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Wednesday through Saturday.
