

Rap

"They wanted to sing, and we wanted to rap. And it's not fair for them to be stuck in a rap group because they're good singers. So we just divided into two groups."

Kauffman, the rapper of Il Def, said he can't write about the same topics that national rap acts do.

"I can't write songs about gangs and how I'm walking the streets staying away from gangs and drugs because I haven't been there," he said.

Kauffman said he tries to be positive and write about things he has experienced. He said lots of groups in Lincoln are jealous of other groups, and they try to keep the others from getting ahead.

"I do more stuff on the unity type thing, and basically people trying to hold us down and how we're trying to make it. The attitude in Lincoln is there's a lot of jealousy," he said.

Kauffman said you have to know how to play with the audience to be good in rap.

"Rap is really a crowd-oriented thing. There's a great message you can get across with it but it's all entertainment. If you can't perform live in rap, you're not going to make it," Kauffman said.

The farewell for Paul Miles is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. tonight in the Nebraska Union Ballroom. Tickets are $4 if dressed for the beach and $5 if not.

Ballet troupe presents 'Cinderella'

By Julie Naughton Senior Reporter

The Opera Ballet de Lyon will make their Nebraska debut with their presentation of "Cendrillon" ("Cinderella"), Saturday at the Lied Center for Performing Arts.

The Lyon, France-based ballet troupe's version of the classic "Cinderella" story is non-traditional, according to Karen Hart Underwood of the Lied Center.

The non-singing ballet company, associated with the Lyon Opera, is on a month-long tour of the United States, coming to the Lied Center from Philadelphia.

Underwood said differences between the Opera Ballet de Lyon and other companies, such as the Joffrey, will be apparent in their non-traditional dancing. Dancers move in a doll-like, stiff fashion, she said.

The story differs from the traditional "Cinderella" story as well, Underwood said. Although Americans know one version, the Grimm brothers' fairy tale, other cultures have their own versions of the story.

"It's interesting to see how differ-ently one story can be interpreted," Underwood said. "Take 'Cinderella.' There is the Walt Disney version, the Grimm Brothers' version and 'My Fair Lady,' and they're all just one story that has been interpreted differently."

opera PREVIEW

The dancers wear costumes and masks to make them look like dolls, and the set of the ballet is a large doll house. Music is from the Prokofiev score of "Cinderella."

According to Underwood, choreographer Maguy Marin did not want her version of "Cinderella" to be like anyone else's.

The Opera Ballet de Lyon's hired Marin in 1985 to choreograph an original production of "Cinderella." Marin created her version of the ballet by researching the "Cinderella" story and blending many different cultures' versions together, as well as relying on her own memories of being a child.

Since the ballet's creation, it has been performed more than 100 times.

The ballet's performances are at 2 and 8 p.m. Saturday. Ticket prices are $20, $16 and $12, half price for UNL students and youth under 18. Tickets are available at the Lied Center box office between 11 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

frightening. It is an astonishing transformation.

Depardieu, as Rodin, also is excellent. Rather than making Rodin -- admittedly not the most sterling personality -- an ogre, Depardieu makes Rodin sympathetic and likeable.

"Camille Claudel," arguably one of the most well-done films in recent years, is in French with English subtitles, and is rated R for nudity.

The film is playing at the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery Theatre through May 13. Matinees are at noon and 2:45 p.m. on Saturdays and at 1 and 3:45 p.m. Sundays. There are shows at 6:30 and 9:15 p.m. on weekdays. There are no screenings Monday and no 6:30 p.m. screening Tuesday.

Admission is $4.50, and $3 for senior citizens, children, UNL summer school students and members of the Friends of the Sheldon Film Theatre.
