

Well-known comics celebrate Funny Bone's first anniversary

By John Payne
Senior Reporter

If an idle Cornhusker football team has got you at a loss for weekend entertainment, you might want to check out three hot young comics at the Funny Bone, 808 P St., in Lincoln's Haymarket. The Bone is celebrating its first anniversary this week with two nationally known funny men, and one of the area's finest comedians.

Los Angeles family man Rahn Ramey headlines the shows with an act that combines Cosby-like family anecdotes with his own manic delivery. Taking jabs at computer salesmen, the Lincoln Municipal Airport and car-wax commercials that pose as talk shows, Ramey's routine pulls no punches. Father knows best he ain't, but his insight is hilariously refreshing.

Percy Crews II, from St. Louis, is a brash young comedian, to say the least. The bashful may want to take a seat in the back, as Crews recounts his days as a supermarket checker in uproarious detail.

And speaking of rising talent, Lincoln's busiest stand-up man, Mark Gross, opens for Crews and Ramey while serving as master of ceremonies. Those who have caught Gross's act know what a slightly demented, thinking man's comedian he is. Those of you who haven't, do so this weekend. You'll be glad you did.

The Funny Bone has two shows tonight and Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., and one show Sunday at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $8 at the door.

Playhouse to hold auditions for World War II drama

From Staff Reports

The Lincoln Community Playhouse, with the support of the Nebraska Arts Council, has announced open auditions for Barbara Lebow's drama "A Shayna Maidel," from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sept. 16 and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sept. 17, at the playhouse, 2500 S. 56th St.

Those who audition should be available for possible callbacks on Sept. 18 at 7 p.m.

"A Shayna Maidel" is a study of a Polish family torn apart by the Nazi rise to power and World War II. The play is set in 1946, and opens with the arrival of eldest sister Luisa in New York. She has been separated from her father and sister for nearly 20 years.

The play explores the range of emotions of a family living apart, the ravages of war and the Holocaust and the strained relationship of two sisters who have grown up in entirely different circumstances.

Roles are available for four women and two men, aged 20 and over. All who audition should come prepared to read from the script. Scripts are available at the playhouse and may be checked out for a 24-hour period upon payment of a $3 deposit.
