It's been a great semester: my alarm clock from hell, bargain hunting at U-Save (can you say expiration date?), burnt funnel cakes, your daily nap(s), our "hairy" carpet, "Cheers", the time I almost lifted weights, making popcorn (by the bushel.) Thanks for being a great roommate!
Deanne

Calvin (TKE).
Good luck on finals. Remember, though sometimes obnoxious, we always can use a Cliff-dwelling sabreur. Merry X-mas!

Da Da. . . Roy Roy? Here's to strange names and pitbull dreams. Love your boxers. (on & off). Will we ever eradicate this continent of polyester? Will we ever quench our desire for H2O? Waterbeds, fountains, Oak Lake, the Mighty Missouri, and a moat in the Dakotas. . . The Rhino says buffalo: like it better on the floor. . . which really doesn't matter if you're a spider. I'm gonna Moose you! Happy Holidays!

BETH—AOII
The greatest thing that ever happened to me
Was when you were a part of my life
For every day we spent together—
For every night I wished could last forever
I was living a dream come true

Nothing can replace the memories
And the Wonderful times we shared
If I could have only told you more often
How much for you I cared

I must have taken it for granted
That you understood what's deep in my heart
Every day we would spend apart

And that you were my angel
And "EXTRAORDINARY" cannot describe
Your beauty. . . your presence—
Your impact in my life
Anyone should be so lucky
To experience love like we once knew
Never realized I could feel so passionately for someone
Until the day I met up with you

Beth, you will always be my angel
And I can only wish to be your man
But I'll keep that dream alive in my heart
For as long as I possibly can

Merry Christmas
Michael

Gary.

Congratulations on finally graduating (even though it is only one year before me.) You taught me a lot about school, "the Cure," and falling too fast. I wish you luck no matter where you go and I know someday you will get your Porsche.
Jill

P.S. If I could leave you two words of advice, I would leave you these: "Don't Stress."

Donovan,
I'm not sure how I'll cope with life without you around to tell me how, so you had better stop in to help me now and then. Thanks for everything. I miss you already.
