Results of an Informal Interview With Three Lincoln Men with Pierced Penises (Incidentally, All are the Same Piercing, the Prince Albert). We shall call them a, b, and c.

Q: So. Why'd you do it?

a): i did it because i thought it would look good, it would be a good thing for me to do and to go through, it was kind of a spiritual thing to see if i could go through with it. Between the time that i was thinking about it and when i actually did it, a couple of my friends got pierced too, so i could see what it looked like and that kind of strengthened my desire to get one too.

b): i had read about it and seen pictures and all and i thought it was kind of cool-looking and then i saw the piercing a friend of mine has and it just looked so cool. So i got it.
c): i got mine because i thought i looked good and because of the sexual enhancement.

Q: Sexual enhancement?

c): yeah, it feels really good for both people.

a): it doesn't seem to make that much difference to me, it's more just knowing that it's there. You know, like when i walk down the street, it's just like, 'i've got a secret'.

Q: Has it caused any problems?
b): yeah, well, when i urinate it kind of dribbles a little bit sometimes but i always sit down when i pee anyway so it's not really a problem.

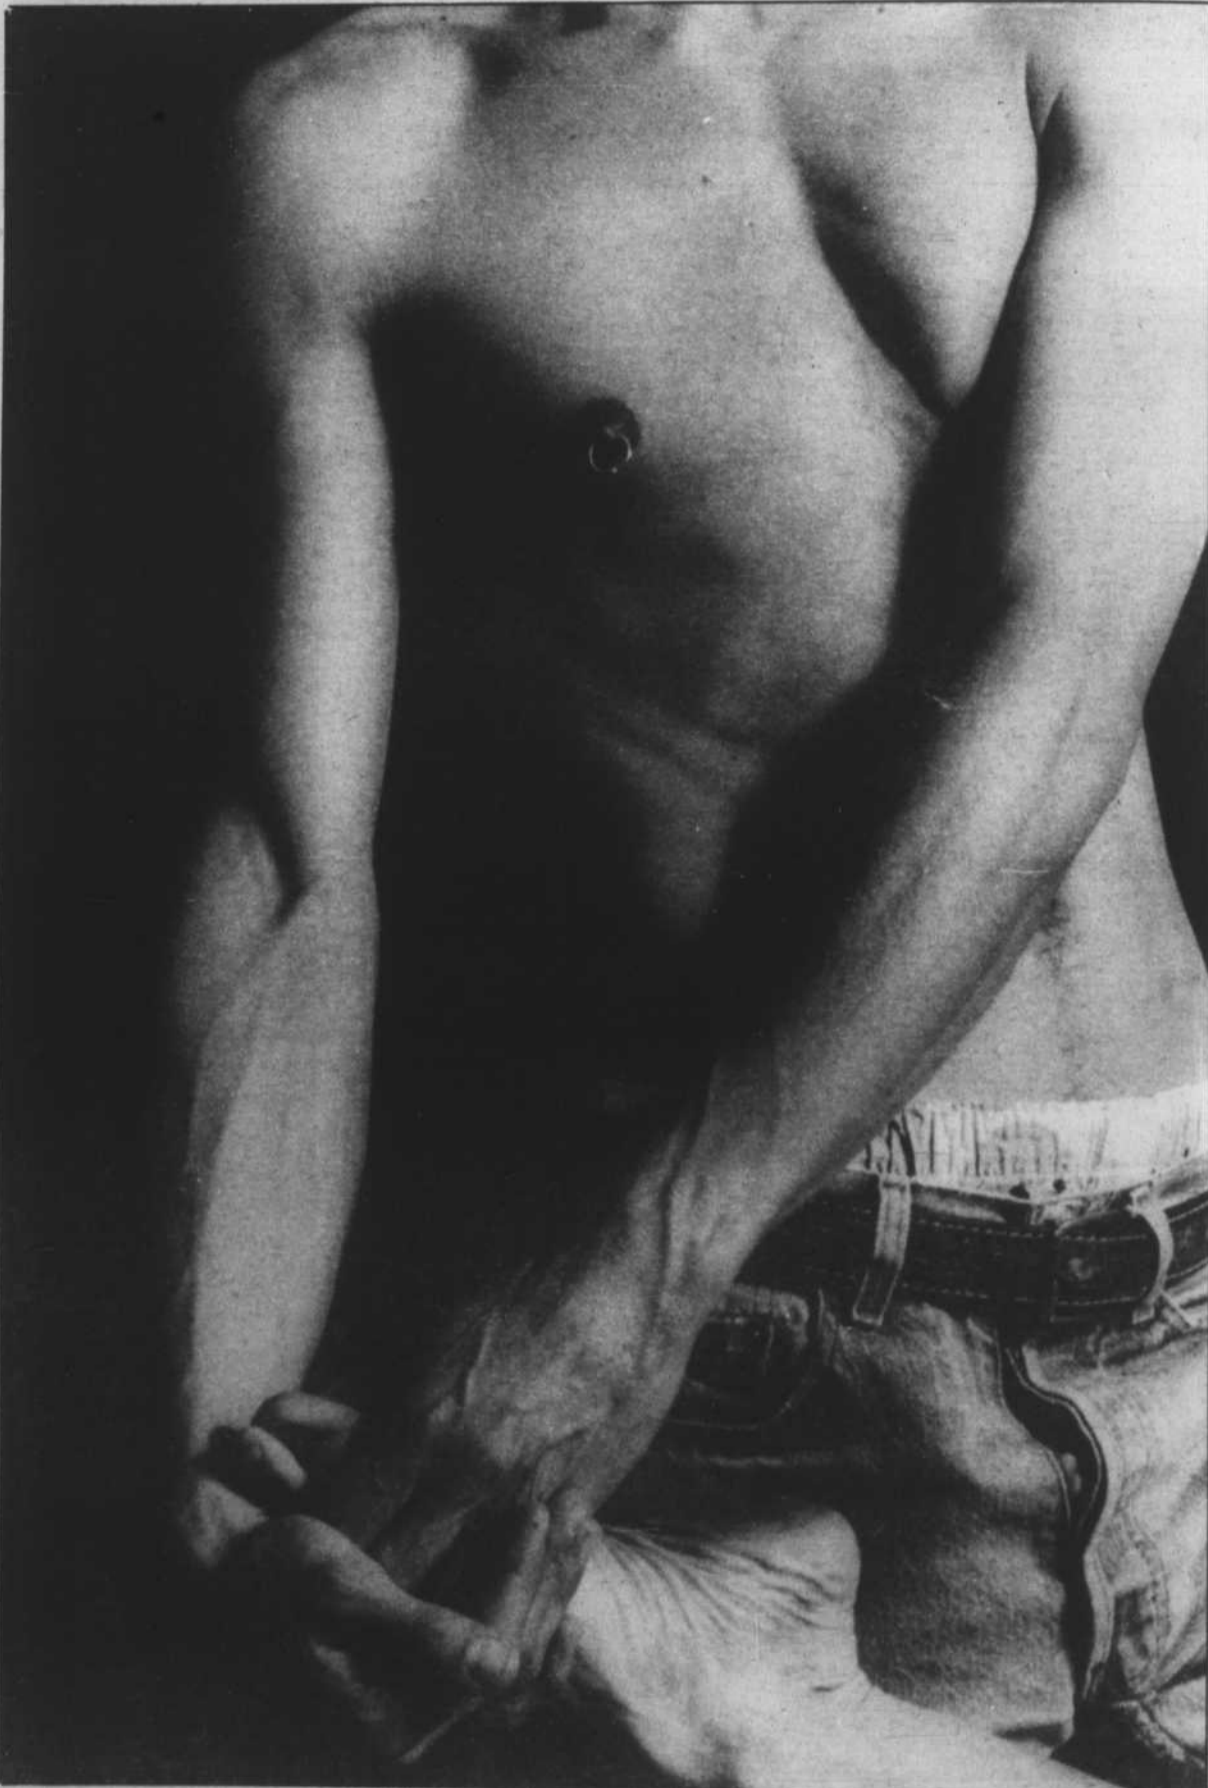

c): no.
a): mine kind of drools too but i like to take it out and pee through both holes.

Q: Has anyone ever turned you down sexually or freaked out because of it?

a): no, i apologized to my lover for not telling her about it before i did it but she didn't care.

c): hell, everybody knows about it anyway. No, nobody's ever turned me down because of it.

b): nobody's ever really turned me down for it but it did really horrify a friend of mine when i showed him. Still does.
