Pat Metheny, award-winning composer and jazz guitarist, will perform Saturday at the Lied Center for Performing Arts.

Six-time Grammy winner's tour stopping at Lied Center Saturday

From Staff Reports

Pat Metheny, a six-time Grammy Award-winner, composer and jazz guitarist, will celebrate the release of his new album, "Secret Story," Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Lied Center for Performing Arts. Metheny, a native of the Kansas City area, made his record debut in 1974 at age 19 with pianist Paul Bley. "Secret Story," also the name of Metheny's tour, is his first solo effort. He calls "Secret Story" a story of romance. The music from this tour resonates from outside the American mainstream. Metheny has traveled extensively and is influenced by other musical cultures, yet he calls the release an American record.

Two pre-performance talks will be given by Kit Vorhees, coordinator for Educational Outreach for the Fine and Performing Arts, in the Lied's Steinhart Room. The first will begin 55 minutes before curtain, and the second 30 minutes before performance. Tickets may be purchased at the Lied Box Office, 12th and R streets. Costs are $26, $22 and $18 with half-price fares for University of Nebraska-Lincoln and Nebraska Wesleyan students and youths 18 and younger.
