Committee passes 1-year terms

Advisers discuss ASUN appointees, parking changes

Students appointed to the Parking Advisory Committee will now officially serve one-year terms.

Committee members approved one-year terms by a 5-to-4 vote at their monthly meeting Thursday.

The president of the Association of Students of the University of Nebraska appoints students to the committee. Previously they have served only one-year terms, even though the parking bylaws read that students are required to serve two-year terms.

The bylaws were changed to match terms served by other students representing ASUN.

Some faculty members indicated before the vote that students would be better committee members if they served two-year terms.

Committee chairman Tom Johnson said students had the option of running for a second term and encouraged student members to do so.

"I think we as a committee can do a lot to keep the student on," he said.

Four students serve on the board.

Three of the members are undergraduates appointed by ASUN. One graduate teaching or research assistant also serves on the committee. That member is appointed by the dean of the Graduate College with input from the ASUN president and the Graduate Student Association.

At Thursday's meeting, the committee also discussed upcoming parking changes.

Beginning Jan. 4, 1993, all state and federal cars will be assigned to one lot on East Campus, which will make more parking available for students, faculty and staff.

Sewer construction on 14th Street that was to begin Dec. 7 was postponed until semester break. It now will begin Jan. 4 and should be completed without closing 14th Street.
