WARNING: LINCOLN CHRISTIAN CHURCH IS A CULT!

The following is factual information which you must consider before attending a "Bible Talk," Campus Advance meeting or Sunday Service of the Lincoln Christian Church (known nationally as the Boston Movement):

You must be "discipled" by a "discipler."

"Each baptized believer is subject to a personal 'discipler,' who gives advice not only on spiritual problems but also on daily life. Dropouts complain that the advice, which members are expected to obey, may include such details as where to live, whom and when to date, what courses to take in school, even how often to have sex with a spouse." - TIME, May 18, 1992

Testimony of known leaders of this movement:

"Even if he (the minister) calls you to do something that disobeys your conscience, you still have an obligation to study it out and prayerfully change your opinion so you can be totally unified." - Leader of the movement, Kip McKean, Boston Seminar, 1987

Sermon entitled DEEP CONVICTIONS by Jay Kelly, minister of Lincoln Christian, December 8, 1991:
"Deep convictions to be discipled. Be appreciative to be discipled. Discipline for your own good. When you're told to do something by your 'discipler' do you do it?"

Interview of elder Al Baird of the Boston Church, August 8, 1989, by Buddy Martin of Cape Cod, MA when asked who "disciples" Kip McKean (leader of the movement):

Question: "Who does Kip report to?"

Al Baird: "Kip reports to, to . . . uh . . . I don't know - no one."

"An awesome disciple (Christian) is one who assumes his 'discipler' is more objective and accurate about his life than he is." - Eric Mansfield, Zone leader, Chicago, May 14, 1989

"You are to be 'discipled' by people. That's God's plan. There is no other way to be in a right relationship with God." - Joe Garmon, Zone leader, Brockton, MA, October, 1988

"I believe that the disciples need to follow even personality traits. I think disciples need to imitate us wholly in what we do. . . Nothing is off limits in discipling someone's life." - Scott Green, World Sector leader, 1988 Boston Leadership Conference

"Your faith in God is reflected in your faith in your discipler." - Bob Harpole, Zone leader, Chicago Church Bulletin, August 16, 1987

This concept of "discipling" is destructive both spiritually and psychologically.

"There is a certain degree of psychological manipulation involved that can result in unhealthy personality changes." - A Concise Dictionary of Cults and Religions by William Watson
