for a signed letter from the player's mother.

Osborne said he was pleased with the quality of recruiting that was exhibited by coaches of all schools this year.

"There isn't much cheating going on in recruiting anymore," he said. "It's not pretty, but it's not dishonest."

All of Nebraska's recruits, he said, were recruited honestly.

"These guys are probably pretty valuable because they were recruited the right way," he said.

And Osborne said the reputation of Nebraska football across the country was still strong.

"I think the perception nationally of Nebraska football is maybe better than it is locally," he said.

Osborne said he was unable to pick out the most valuable player of the class until he has seen them play.

"I think they are all big catches," he said. "We wouldn't have recruited them if they weren't."

Recruiters still stealing from rivals

4th Oklahoma native to sign

By Susie Arth
Senior Reporter

Nebraska football recruiters are stealing from the enemy.

Oklahoma native Josh Heskew is the most recent athlete to give his verbal commitment to the Cornhuskers.

Heskew, a nose guard and tight end from Yukon, Okla., is the fourth Oklahoma native in two years to accept a scholarship from Nebraska.

Dave Gillespie, the football program's on-campus recruiting coordinator, said he was uncertain why the Cornhusker recruiters have been successful attracting Oklahoma athletes lately.

Recruiting in an area, he said, goes in cycles. Once a team starts signing players from an area, the success usually continues for a few years.

And the Husker-Sooner rivalry can be either beast or blessing, he said.

"I'm sure our success has something to do with the rivalry," he said. "People in Oklahoma know about Nebraska and the Nebraska program. That doesn't hurt us, but often times it doesn't help either, especially if the recruit is a pro-Oklahoma person."

Joining Heskew on the Huskers' list of oral commitments is Ramone Worthy of Camden, N.J., who said he planned to accept a scholarship from Nebraska this weekend.

Worthy, who is a distant cousin of former Husker I-back and 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, is the 20th oral commitment the Huskers have received.

And Gillespie said 20 was the magic number.

The remaining five scholarships, Gillespie said, would be saved for walk-on athletes.

"Right now we don't anticipate giving many, if any, more scholarships," he said. "We're not out there trying to dig up anybody else."

But Gillespie said recruiters are continuing to concentrate on the athletes who have said they will attend Nebraska next fall.

She finished the game with 13 points, a career-high 12 assists and five rebounds.

"I love to play with her," Jennings said. "She's the most unselfish player I've ever played with in my life."

Yedsena said she did not need to be in the spotlight, as long as she was helping her team win. "The fact that we're winning is enough for me," Yedsena said. "I don't care who gets the glory for it."

people look for me to set them up, and it's my job to do that." Although the Huskers will lose Jennings next season, Yedsena said she could continue to rack up the assists.

The only Big Eight record Yedsena was thinking about is 5-2, the Huskers' record following the first half of the conference schedule.
