KFAB plans changes in Osborne TV show

By Susie Arth
Senior Reporter

The question of what television station will carry the "Tom Osborne Show" next season reveals a fuzzy picture. But the prospect for change in the program is clear.

Television stations KOLN/KGIN and KMTV, which carried the program for the past three seasons, did not renew their contract with Osborne to carry the show, a station official said.

Howard Kennedy, general manager of KMTV, said he was uncertain why Osborne rejected the offer.

"We made an offer, a sincere one, and Coach Osborne elected not to take it," Kennedy said.

Osborne said the reason he turned down KMTV's offer was that they proposed to cut the show from 60 to 30 minutes.

The offer was not rejected for monetary reasons, he said.

KFAB Radio General Manager Paul Aaron said he had worked out an informal agreement with Osborne for the rights to the show.

"We reached an agreement in principle," he said. "We have a verbal agreement to do it—the paperwork is on its way."

Aaron said he was shopping the show around to various television stations and he has received great interest.

Aaron said he planned some changes for the show.

"I saw the show last year, and I thought there could be some additional elements added to it to make it more exciting to the viewer as well as for Tom," he said.

Aaron said his main goal was to include more viewer participation by implementing a call-in section in the program and adding various contests.

The new show would not be solely an analysis of the past week's game, he said.

The show would also include more footage of the Huskers' next opponent, rather than simply analyzing the past week's game. This would include clips from the two teams' last game against each other and its big plays.

In addition, Aaron said he hoped to add a segment that would focus on all Big Eight teams and their performances.

"There's going to be a lot of action in this show," Aaron said.

Yet Aaron said he was uncertain when and where the show would appear, and he had not set a deadline for the final decision.

Osborne said he hoped the final decision would be made within the next couple of weeks.

And Kennedy has not ruled out the possibility that the show will still appear on KMTV.

"(KFAB) will be going around to various stations," he said. "We'll see if we can strike a deal with them."

Randy Oswald, general manager of WOWT in Omaha, said KFAB had approached his station about the show.

But Oswald said he had hoped to close the deal by now.

"As a station, we're not trying to produce it," Oswald said. "We're thinking about selling that time so someone else can run it."

KU stops Husker softball team from reaching tournament goal

By Tim Pearson
Staff Reporter

Nebraska women's softball coach Rhonda Revelle was hoping to get four wins out of last weekend's Texas A & M Aggie Invitational.

But the Cornhuskers finished with a 3-2 record, one win shy of their goal.

Nebraska won its first two games in pool play over Creighton 14-7 and Northeast Louisiana 5-1.

Overall, the Huskers finished second in their bracket with a 3-1 record.

They entered single-elimination play hoping for a better draw, Revelle said. But instead, the Huskers got the chance to play No. 13 Kansas and were beaten 4-1.

"Kansas got off to a bad start, but they eventually won the whole tournament," Revelle said. "It was a tough draw in the tournament, but we played them tough."

The Huskers jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second inning, but they couldn't hold on as the Jayhawks rallied for two runs in the second and two more in the sixth to seal the win.

Revelle, in her first year as coach at Nebraska, said the Huskers went into the tournament looking for respect.

"We're not even ranked in our region, so we've got to prove ourselves," Revelle said. "But we ran into Kansas right away, and that put a halt to things."

Although the Huskers lost to Kansas, Revelle said she was pleased with her team's play.

"I really feel good about the way we played," she said. "We lost two to teams ranked way ahead of us in our region, and we played them very competitively."

Having a young team may be a stumbling block for the Huskers, especially early in the season, Revelle said.

"We're very young," she said. "We're trying to motivate them at a quick pace and get them game experience and game knowledge."

"Youth works against us right now," she said. "We have to overcome that."

Kansas gets past eighth-seeded Colorado.

Badgett said even though the Huskers would like to get a shot at the Jayhawks, they had to focus on Kansas State first.

"(Kansas) has been a thought in everybody's mind," he said. "Everyone wants to play Kansas, but we have to beat Kansas State to do it."

Chubick said he would like to see Nebraska repeat its tournament performance of two years ago when the Huskers reached the championship game.

"My freshman year we went down there and we had a really good tournament, and it was a great time," he said. "And then last year, I saw the other side of it. To get beat the first day and come home early Saturday—that's not any fun at all."

Note:

●Nebraska's Eric Piatkowski was named as a first-team Big Eight All-Conference selection on Tuesday, the first Husker to be named to the first team since Dave Hoppen in 1986.

Although no Nebraska player made the second team, Husker center Derrick Chandler and freshman guard Erick Strickland were both named to the honorable mention list.

Baseball

Four Husker pitchers combined to give up 12 runs on 14 hits. They also walked 11 Titan hitters.

Nebraska's defense was also shaky in game one, committing three errors, but Sanders said he is optimistic that the defense will improve.

"I am convinced that our defense will be where we want it to be," Sanders said.

Marc Patterson, 2-1, picked up the win on the mound for Oral Roberts. Marc Sagmoen provided the only highlight for the Huskers, with a solo homer in the third inning.

It was Sagmoen's first homerun, and the first of the season for the Huskers.

In the night cap, Brian Martin picked up his first win of the season in relief of Casey Deskins.

Steve Boyd recorded his first save of the season by striking out the only batter he faced.

Bryan Wolff, 1-1, took the loss for the Titans.
