

NU shoots past Cats in victory

By Trevor Parks
Staff Reporter

The Nebraska women's basketball team picked the right time to make a season-high nine three-pointers in posting its first Big Eight win. The Huskers defeated Kansas State 78-58 Sunday at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Beck During that span, the Huskers — 9-8 overall and 1-3 in the Big Eight — made four three-pointers to increase their lead from 37-34 to 57-40. Sophomore guard Lis Brennan scored nine of her 12 points — including a four-point play — to help Nebraska take control. Coach Angela Beck said it was important for her team to stop being one-dimensional Sunday.

"Nafeesah creates so much attention inside," Beck said. "This is the best movement we've had all year. I put pressure on our guards to shoot more. It makes us a more complete team."

The Huskers made 7-of-12 second-half three-point attempts and made 9-of-19 overall. The 19 attempts tied a school record set at Long Beach State in 1988.

Kate Galligan's fourth three-pointer of the game gave Nebraska its biggest lead at 75-50 with 2:49 remaining.

Galligan, who scored a career-high 20 points, said that playing without Brown was a good lesson for the Huskers.

"This forced us to move the ball more," Galligan said. "We need to open up the perimeter to help our inside players."

The Huskers needed that Friday, too, as they dropped a 78-57 game to Kansas. The Jayhawks had four players score in double figures.

Nebraska led midway through the first half, but the Jayhawks went on a 17-4 run that helped put them ahead 41-25 at halftime.

Kansas, which improved to 12-1, outscored Nebraska 37-32 in the second half, despite 18 second-half points from Brown. Brown, who scored 22, had 16 of the Huskers' first 20 points in the half.

But Beck said the Big Eight-leading Jayhawks "pretty much controlled everything."

"I felt like there wasn't a spark on my team to compete with a team like this," she said. "I don't know where I'm going to find that spark."

Galligan said the Huskers needed some shots to fall Friday, like they did Sunday.

"We took the same shots as we did Friday but (Sunday) they went in," Galligan said.

NU women gymnasts get win

From Staff Reports

Nebraska's women gymnasts opened the season with a win over Illinois at Champaign, Ill.

The Cornhuskers outscored the Illini 185.2 to 181.75.

Despite the victory, first-year coach Dan Kendig said the Huskers needed to improve.

"I would have felt better if we would have hit more sets," Coach Dan Kendig said. "It was the first meet, and you will see a big change in our routines next week."

Nebraska freshman Kim DeHaan finished second in the all-around, posting a score of 36.925. Illinois' Nicole Viernes finished first with a score of 37.125.

Husker freshman Shelly Bartlett won the uneven bars with a score of 9.65.

"We're young and we're only going to get better," Kendig said.

Nebraska faces Southeast Missouri State Saturday at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Football games moved for TV

From Staff Reports

Nebraska has moved three of its football games to different dates so that two of the games can be televised.

Athletic Director Bill Byrne said the Cornhuskers' game against Texas Tech at Lubbock, Texas, had been moved from Sept. 10 to Sept. 8 and would be televised by ESPN.

Nebraska's nationally televised matchup with Oklahoma has been moved from Nov. 19 to Nov. 25.

The Huskers' game against Wyoming has been moved to Oct. 1, originally an open date on the schedule.
