Bosnians sign cease-fire

ZAGREB, Croatia (AP) — Under growing diplomatic pressure from the West, the military chiefs of Bosnia's Muslim-led government and their second-strongest foes, Bosnia's Croats, signed a truce Wednesday.

Many truces in Bosnia have collapsed, but the accord between the former allies against Bosnia's Serbs is likely to gain strength from diplomatic efforts to extend across Bosnia a NATO-enforced truce in Sarajevo.

A new note of discord emerged between Russia and the West when Boris Yeltsin lashed out at NATO for threatening air strikes against Russia's traditional allies, the Serbs, without asking Russia first.

The Russian president reiterated his proposal for a summit between Russia, the United States, France, Britain and Germany to "put an end to the Yugoslav conflict." The United States and Germany were cool to the idea Wednesday, indicating it was premature.

Foreign diplomats consider an end to fighting between Croats and government forces crucial to an overall peace settlement.

The cease-fire, which takes effect at noon (2 a.m. EST) Friday, covers central Bosnia and Mostar and other areas in the south where Muslims and Croats have fought bitterly since their alliance collapsed last April.

"The U.N. hopes and trusts that it will be respected and implemented by both sides, which is essential in this moment," said Yasushi Akashi, head of the U.N. mission in former Yugoslavia. Akashi participated in the four hours of talks that produced the accord.

The agreement is the most precise and serious in a long list of cease-fire accords. Its signing came amid renewed efforts by the United Nations, NATO and especially the United States and Russia to bring peace to Bosnia.

Yeltsin's proposal, announced Tuesday, would build on the Russian initiative last week that persuaded Bosnian Serbs to withdraw heavy weapons from Sarajevo following NATO's ultimatum to do so or face air strikes.

The Russian initiative averted the strikes, and Yeltsin said Wednesday that Russia must not be left out of international security decisions.

Yeltsin, speaking on a holiday honoring the armed forces, said the attempt by NATO "to make a decision about bombing the Sarajevo region without asking Russia caused indignation not only in the leadership of Russia, but in all her citizens."

Kerrigan wins short program

HAMAR, Norway (AP) — Nancy Kerrigan made a clean, graceful start to her Olympics Wednesday night, landing a triple combination jump and winning the short program in women's figure skating.

Tonya Harding watched from a box high above the arena, and applauded her American rival's performance. Harding finished the night in 10th place and appeared to be all but out of contention for a medal.

Dressed in a black-and-white outfit and appearing confident, Kerrigan nailed the triple lutz-double toe loop combination that had stymied Harding in her performance earlier in the evening.

The triple seemed to loosen Kerrigan even more, and the 1992 bronze medalist skated the rest of her two-minute program in quick order, flashing a smile and winning the crowd with her elegant moves.

When she finished with a spin and a look of relief on her face, flowers cascaded onto the ice and Kerrigan skated to the sidelines, while seven of the nine judges placed her first.

Oksana Baiul of Ukraine, the favorite, was second and Surya Bonaly of France was third.

In other Olympic action Wednesday, Bonnie Blair put an exclamation point on the end of her storied Olympic career, saying goodbye with a fifth gold medal and yet another claim to Winter Games history.

Unlike Blair, the U.S. hockey team couldn't seize the moment in the quarterfinals and was eliminated from medals contention. The Americans, who have won only once in six games in Norway, were outclassed by unbeaten Finland 6-1.

It was a tough day for Alberto Tomba, too. Tomba bomba-ed in his Lillehammer debut, skiing unimpressively in the giant slalom and missing a gate in the last run as Germany's Markus Wasmeier took his second gold medal in a week.
