Huskers open Big Eight play this weekend

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska women's tennis team, 7-4, begins Big Eight play this weekend by playing host to Oklahoma State on Saturday and Oklahoma on Sunday at the Cather-Pound tennis courts, 17th and R streets.

Both matches are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

Nebraska coach Scott Jacobson said the Huskers were ready for this weekend's competition.

"We have been playing some quality tennis the past two weeks, and I think we can be equally successful in the conference," he said.

The Huskers went 4-2 over spring break. At Fullerton, Calif., Nebraska beat St. Mary's and Cal State-Fullerton before losing to Montana State.

This past weekend, Nebraska defeated Oregon and Long Beach State before losing to Fresno State.

Softball team wins two, looks to Big Eight

From Staff Reports

After getting back on the winning track Wednesday against Creighton, the Nebraska softball team turns its attention to its Big Eight and home opener Saturday against Kansas.

Saturday's doubleheader at the NU softball complex is set to begin at 1 p.m., while Easter Sunday's doubleheader starts at 11 a.m.

Nebraska, which swept Creighton 5-1 and 7-1 Wednesday in Omaha, will play Kansas.

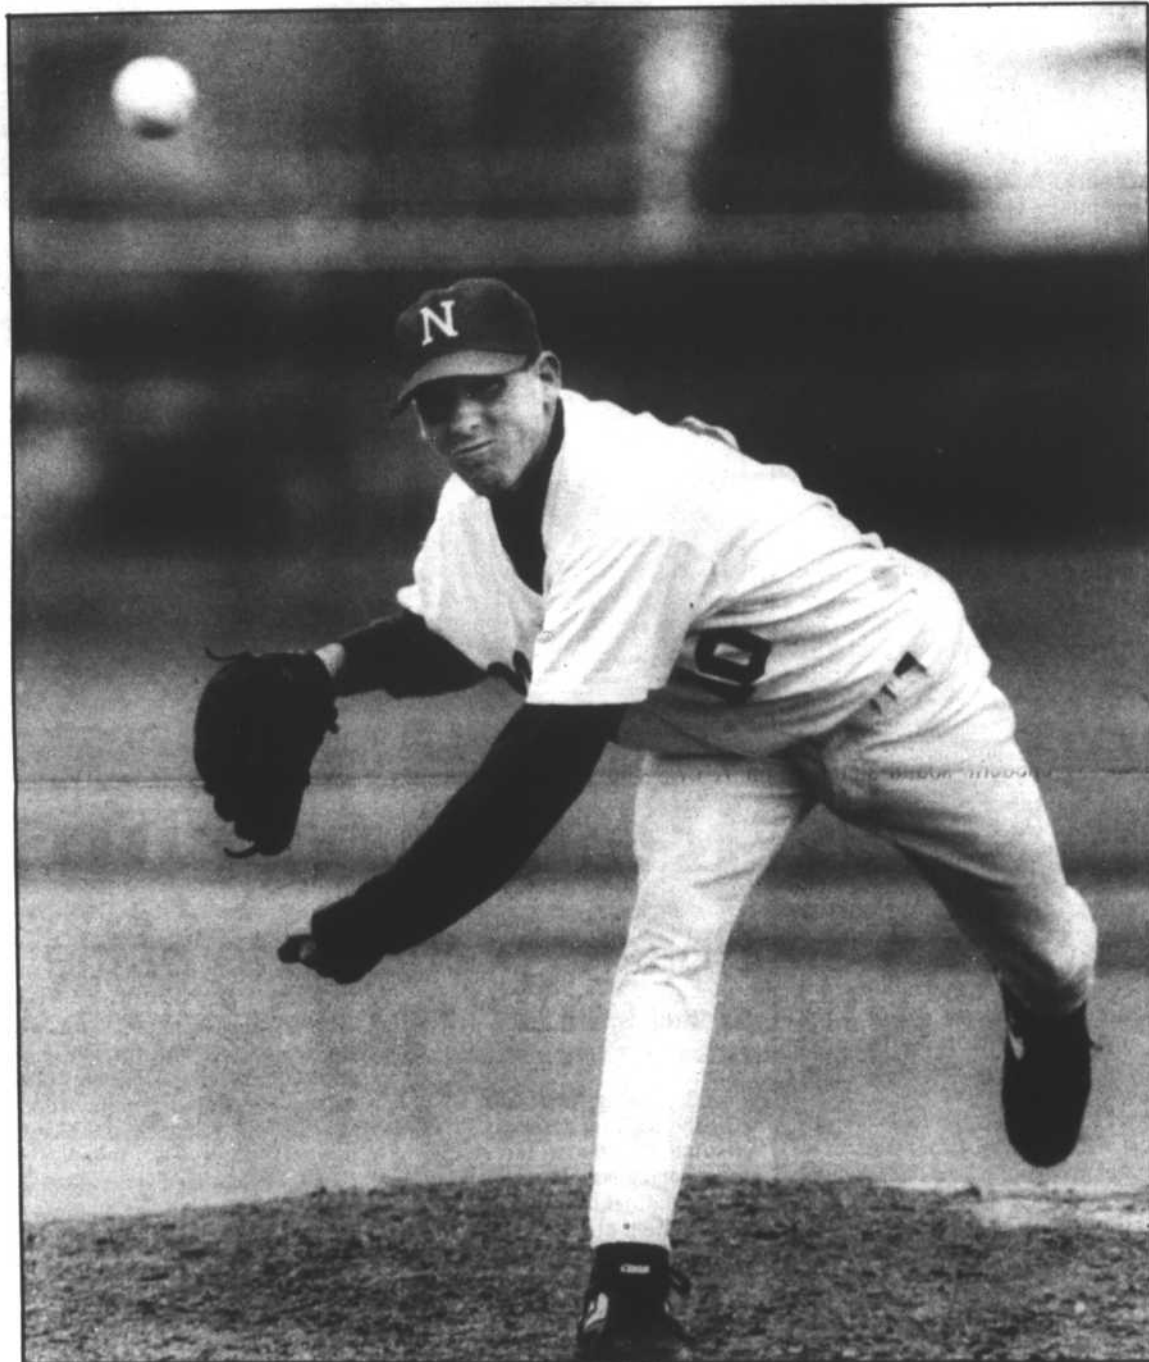

The 11-15 Huskers take a three-game winning streak into this weekend's games, while Husker sophomore Tobin Echo-Hawk takes a school record-tying 14-game hit streak into the conference schedule.

Echo-Hawk hit a two-run home run in the third inning of the 5-1 victory over Creighton.

In the second game, Echo-Hawk's single tied the Husker record. She also leads the Big Eight with a .443 batting average.

Melanie Raimonda earned a victory in the first game against Creighton, while Cody Dusenberry's four-hitter helped the Huskers earn a romp in the second game.

right now." Solich said the spring was a time for evaluating talent and fighting for spots, but the Huskers might not settle on one back right away.

"No matter who starts, more than one guy will play a lot," Solich said. "A lot of areas are decided this time of year. But ground can be made up when we come back for two-a-days in the fall."

Nebraska will have less time this fall. The Huskers have to be ready to play by Aug. 28, when they open the season against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic.

"Everyone wants to play," Phillips said. "Everyone wanted to get started early in the Kickoff Classic. We want to get back in, because we want to prove that we can play after we lost in the Orange Bowl."

Altman to inherit Creighton program

OMAHA (AP) — Kansas State coach Dana Altman became the new men's basketball coach at Creighton University on Thursday. He becomes the 14th head coach in Creighton's 75-year history.

Altman declined to discuss his salary, but he said it was a five-year contract that can be renewed after each year he was at Creighton.

Altman replaces Rick Johnson, who resigned March 2 after three seasons with the Bluejays. Johnson had a 24-59 record with the Missouri Valley Conference team over that span.

Altman said he wasn't unhappy at Kansas State and that the toughest decision was leaving the players.

"Those 14 players I worked with all year, they're a great group of guys," Altman said. "Four of them are seniors and they wouldn't be around me much anymore now that they're done with their eligibility, but those 10 underclassmen, they worked their tails off. They're a great group of young men."

Creighton's basketball tradition is solid, but the program will need to be improved, Altman said.

Before Thursday's announcement,

Kansas State had ended its season with a 92-79 loss to Siena in the consolation game of the National Invitation Tournament in New York.

Altman was 20-14 in his fourth season at Kansas State. Overall, the 35-year-old Wilber native was 68-54 at Kansas State and 83-67 as an NCAA Division I head coach.

In 1993, Altman was named the Big Eight Conference Coach of the Year, when the Wildcats finished 7-7 in the conference and one game out of second place. The Wildcats also were the sixth seed in the NCAA tournament.
