Women's tennis team loses two in Big Eight

By Trevor Parks
Staff Reporter

The Nebraska women's tennis team struggled this weekend, losing to Oklahoma State 8-1 and Oklahoma 9-0 at the Cather-Pound tennis courts.

Cornhusker coach Scott Jacobson said the Huskers, 7-6, had a tough couple of days.

"We got a good old-fashioned butt-kicking Sunday," Jacobson said. "Oklahoma played great."

Annic Yang, Nebraska's No. 1 singles player, was the only Husker to win during the two days. On Saturday, Yang defeated Oklahoma State's Mercedes Fernandez 4-6, 6-0, 6-2. Fernandez is one of the top 10 players in the region, Jacobson said.

No. 2 singles player Cathy Liptak lost to Oklahoma State's Jacqui Gunthrop in straight sets 7-6, 6-3. April Yarmus lost a tough three-set match in No. 3 singles to Carolina Hadad 6-0, 1-6, 7-5.

At No. 4 singles, Alison McNellis lost to Oklahoma State's Kym Hazzard 6-1, 6-1. Kelly Press defeated Nebraska's No. 5 singles player, Michelle Waldhauser, 6-2, 6-0. No. 6 singles player Jane Startin lost to Nadia Vitels 6-3, 6-1.

The Cowgirls also swept the doubles competition.

Jacobson said he was surprised that his team performed better on Saturday than Sunday.

"Usually, in a dual type of competition, you usually play better the second day," Jacobson said. "But that could have been because of the competition."

The Huskers were swept Sunday by Oklahoma.

Yang, who dropped to 8-4 on the season, lost in straight sets 6-2, 6-2. Liptak, 6-7, lost 6-2, 6-3 in her No. 2 singles spot.

Yarmus, 9-4, lost to Oklahoma's Brandi Swan in No. 3 singles, 6-3, 6-4.

McNellis, 8-11, lost her No. 4 singles match 6-2, 6-3. In No. 5 singles play, Waldhauser, 9-10, lost 6-0, 6-2. Oklahoma's Narelle Cox beat the 4-7 Startin, 6-1, 6-2.

Oklahoma also swept the doubles competition.

Despite the two losses, Jacobson said, he expects the Huskers to bounce back.

"The main thing is to make progress every week," he said. "All you can ask for is 100 percent effort."

Piatkowski scores 15 in win

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Nebraska's Eric Piatkowski led all scorers for the victorious East squad Sunday during the NABC All-Star game.

Piatkowski scored 15 points to pace the East to a 77-73 victory over the West in the 32nd annual all star game.

Charlie Ward, who had 13 points, seven assists and seven rebounds, was named most valuable player of the game.

Ward scored six of his points in the final four minutes, when the East had to hold off a rally. He sealed the victory with two free throws with one second to play.

Jervaughn Scales of Southern University had 10 points and a dozen rebounds, and Warren Peebles of Virginia Union added 13 points for the East.

The West got 13 points and 12 rebounds from Mark Boyd of Southern Cal, and 15 points from Shon Tarver of UCLA. Peebles scored 10 of his points in the first half as the East took a nine-point halftime lead. The lead widened to 15 on two occasions early in the second half before the West started to come on.

Jayhawks sweep NU softball

From Staff Reports

The Nebraska softball team started off its Big Eight season slowly as Kansas had a four-game sweep over the Cornhuskers this weekend at the NU Softball Complex.

On Saturday, Kansas, 21-11 and 4-0 in the conference, won 11-3 and 10-0 over the Huskers.

The Huskers had four hits in the first game including a double by Tobin Echo-Hawk, which set a school record 15-game hitting streak. In the second game, Echo-Hawk's hitting streak was snapped.

On Sunday, Nebraska dropped to 11-19 overall and 0-4 in the Big Eight, losing 3-0 and 4-3.

In the first game, the Jayhawks scored two runs on errors, and Stephanie Williams held the Huskers to only four hits. In the second game, Nebraska led 3-2 before Kansas rallied for two runs in the fifth.

The Huskers' next game will be Tuesday when they play host to Northern Iowa.

Explosion

On the next pitch, Matt McKay crushed a towering home run into the middle of Avery Avenue to give the Huskers an 8-3 lead.

Strasser, 2-3, reliever Mike Bellos and solid defense by the Huskers kept the Cowboys corralled the rest of the way.

"Our defense has been strong, and we didn't make an error again today," Sanders said. "Even during our down time, we've been playing solid defense."

The Huskers, who rallied from a 7-0 deficit behind Derek Dukart's first career grand slam to win 8-7 Saturday, will be busy this week with games against Iowa State, the University of Nebraska at Kearney and a weekend series against Oral Roberts.

Erstad said he hoped the weekend wins against Oklahoma State would carry over.

"We've got a lot of games this week, so hopefully we can keep it going and put together a run," Erstad said.

Quarterbacks

"The elbow has felt good up until now," he said. "We're going to do things now to keep it easier with the number of throws."

Even though it's early in the spring, Berringer said, the Husker offense looked good during the first major scrimmage.

"We had things rolling on the first drive," he said. "Overall, it was a good scrimmage."

The first-team offense drove 70 yards on the first-team defense in the opening series and scored on fullback Cory Schlesinger's 15-yard touchdown.

During the opening drive, I-back Lawrence Phillips rushed twice for 28 yards and caught one pass from Berringer that covered 25 yards.

After the opening drive, different units were switched in and out, while the defenses stiffened up.

Five series after Schlesinger's touchdown, third-string quarterback Matt Turman scored on a one-yard plunge.

Turman, who later scored again from a yard out, led all rushers with 49 yards on eight attempts. He also completed seven of 15 passes for 94 yards.

I-back Marvin Sims finished with 46 yards on 12 carries, while Phillips ran for 38 yards on 10 attempts.

Tight end Eric Alford led receivers with 47 yards on three catches, while Clester Johnson gained 46 yards on three receptions.

Todd Uhlir, who rushed for 21 yards, scored the scrimmage's final touchdown on a 3-yard run.

The only major injury came to second-string nose tackle Scott Saltzman.

Saltzman possibly tore cartilage in his knee and will probably have surgery, Osborne said.
